ADOWA, ETHIOPIA (By courier to Asmara, Eritrea, where filed at 8 p. m.,) Oct. 9.—I am happy to report that comparative peace reigns on the Italian-Ethiopian fronts.

The Italians are now occupying about 2000 square miles of Ethiopian territory, a strip approximately 20 miles deep across a region 60 miles wide.

They are contemplating no immediate advance farther south in the direction of Addis Ababa, which is still 400 miles south, beyond even higher mountains and terrain even more desolate and difficult than that which the Italians have already encountered.

Airplane reconnaissance today revealed only scattered groups of Ethiopians in view south of Adowa and Adigrat, totaling about 2000.

League Action Brings New Moves By Mussolini

By HUDSON HAWLEY

ROME, Oct. 11—Striking with the same swift decisiveness on the economic front as on the battlefield Premier Benito Mussolini today mustered the industrial and commodity resources of Italy for a fight to the finish against the financial and economic legions of 51 nations.

Within a few hours after the League of Nations set up a commission to smash Italy's African campaign with the weapons of hunger and want, Il Duce issued a sweeping decree nationalizing war industries, providing for dictatorial powers to control prices, and mobilizing all workers.

Creates War Board

The official Gazette today published the order creating an industrial war board—Mussolini's "general staff" for the campaign against the League of Nations.

This board will fix prices, direct civil mobilization, control wartime

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 11.—Savage sharp-shooters of the notoriously ferocious Issa tribe brought down an Italian plane by rifle fire, killing two military pilots and one pet dog mascot in the Wabens region, on the border of French Somaliland, it was announced officially today.

Italians still hold both Adowa and Adigrat, according to the latest information in the hands of the Ethiopians government.

(Editor's Note: This was stated in comment upon London reports that Ethiopians today had recaptured Adowa, massacring the Italian forces who had been holding the city.)

The plane brought down in the Wabens region was the second forced down by the Ethiopians, and the crash makes six victims.

There was great Ethiopian satisfaction at having fulfilled the boast they could bring down Italian planes with rifles.

The Issa savages, though proud of the feat, hesitated for 48 hours before venturing to report it to the government because early in the year Emperor Haile Selassie severely punished them for killing French

Rev. Clarence Duff Married In Ethiopia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11—Miss Dorothea Kuehner, 28, of this city, was married this week to Rev. Clarence Duff in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, according to a cable received here today.

The couple, both missionaries, were married by Dr. T. A. Lambie, field director of the Ethiopian Mission service. Later they received the blessing of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Duff, whose home is near New Castle, Pa., is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary. The bride has been connected with the Lutheran Mission at Addis Ababa for several years. The couple met in Ethiopia.

Rev. Clarence Duff, whose native home is in Lawrence County, near Mt. Jackson, recently returned to Ethiopia, after curtailing his furlough in the United States. He left after a short period of his furlough, in order to get back to the mission field before hostilities between Ethiopia and Italy developed.

State Convention Comes Here In '36

At the session of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School convention in Lewistown, last night, it was unanimously decided by a vote of the delegates that the convention of 1936 would be held in New Castle.

The convention date will be early in October.

Remembering the wonderful convention here some years ago, the delegates at Lewistown were enthusiastic to return here, New Castle representatives at the convention said in a message today.

The Cathedral auditorium in this city was used for the convention on the previous occasion and proved a most adaptable building for such an event.

ABOARD GOVERNOR'S PLANE, State Air Tour, Oct. 11.—Nearly 60 planes comprising the state's most spectacular civilian aerial caravan lifted into the air from Harrisburg airport today and swung west over the state capitol on the first leg of Pennsylvania's second annual "Good Will" air tour.

At the control wheel of this trimotored Central Airlines transport as the mass flight gained altitude for the mountain hop to Johnstown was Gov. George H. Earle, the nation's only flying chief executive.

Ships of every size and description, bearing 60 pilots and 80 passengers on the three-day jaunt, rapidly dropped behind the speedy plane assigned to the governor as the flight pointed for the first of its 14 scheduled stops.

Neutrality Now Rests With American People

By KINGSBURY SMITH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—It's now up to the American people whether this country is going to be drawn into any general European war that may develop out of the Italian-Ethiopian conflagration.

This represents the feeling of Secretary of the State Cordell Hull and, it was learned today, was the motive behind his statement extolling American traders to refrain from letting the lure of war profits endanger American neutrality.

The extent to which Americans trade with the belligerents and travel on Italian ships will determine the risk this country runs of becoming involved in Europe's latest war Hull believes.

Jameson Memorial Hospital Belongs To Community

(This is the first of a series of articles by the Board of Directors of Jameson Memorial hospital. The second article will appear in these columns tomorrow.)

When we announced our decision to invite the citizens of our community to join us in a campaign to raise money to carry forward the ministry of Jameson Memorial hospital to our sick and injured, Fred L. Rentz, our president and chairman of our campaign, stated a great big important fact when he said: "Jameson Memorial hosptial does not belong to the directors nor the doctors—it belongs to all the citizens of the New Castle community. It is a community general hospital."

We emphasize this fact by repeating it. Jameson Memorial hospital was an outright million dollar gift to all our citizens by David Jameson and family. To receive this monumental gift of mercy and give it legal status to carry out the purposes for which it was erected, it was necessary for our citizens to organize themselves as a voluntary association incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania, "To provide medical and surgical aid, nursing and care for sick and injured indigent persons." NOT FOR PROFIT.

We directors are volunteers, pledged to ourselves and to each other and to all our citizens to carry forward the ministry of Jameson Memorial hospital for all of us as David Jameson intended. As directors, entrusted with administration of an institution which any moment may be a vital factor in the lives of any of us, our concern has been and is to provide the protection of modern hospital care which is recognized as worthy of our full confidence. As laymen, we may not qualify on the technicalities of this part of our job, but we have doctors for that purpose and we have nationally recognized agencies of hospital standardization and grading to check on our efforts and results.

We are perfectly qualified to recognize the fact that treatment-needs of a hospital patient are not governed by the size of his bankroll. And we know that the advance of modern hospital medicine has created standards of care which cost more to deliver than many of our citizens are able to pay. Many are unable to pay anything. The result is clear enough. Unless we lower our standards or deny our sick citizens what they can not pay for, we shall operate our hospital at a loss. We refuse to lower the standards—we shall endeavor to improve them; we refuse to deny any sick citizen his hospital needs even if he has no money. We are operating Jameson Memorial hospital at a loss. We are not proud of this inescapable loss, nor are we ashamed of it.

As directors of a vital community institution, we wish to identify ourselves: W. Walter Braham, Robert H. Cunningham, Robert A. Eckles, Marcus Feuchtwanger, Louis G. Genkinger, H. L. Gordon, Thomas H. Hartman, A. Crawford Hoyt, Frank S. Hoyt, Charles H. Johnson, John H. Lamb, John G. Lamoree, John P. Lockhart, J. Norman Martin, Sam H. McGoun, W. F. Moody, Elizabeth J. Arms Embargo Against Ethiopia Is Now Likely To Be Lifted

GENEVA, Oct. 11.—Albania, Italy's little trans-Adriatic neighbor and ally, today belatedly lined up with Austria and Hungary in refusing to apply sanctions against Italy, but the 50 other nations of the league assembly plunged resolutely into the work of cutting off Italy's money, arms, and supplies.

Pressed by Britain and the Soviet Union to act with speed and determination, the 49 countries of the joint assembly and council sanctions coordination committee named a "war staff" of 16 to wage a campaign of privation against Mussolini's 43,600,000.

DENY SHAKE-UP IN ITALIAN COMMAND

By HUDSON HAWLEY

ROME, Oct. 11—The surrender of two important Ethiopian leaders and their respective armies was claimed officially by the Italian government today in "communique No. 17" the most informative military statement yet issued here.

While all Italy discussed the League of Nations stand against Italy and government spokesmen hastened to deny rumors of dissension in the Italian high command in East Africa, a reassuring statement was published calculated to show all was going well with the Ethiopian campaign.

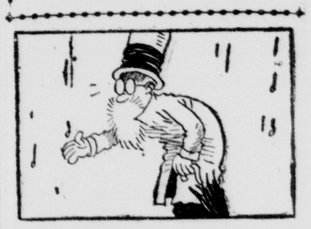

The communique gave the first official Italian casualty list for the entire campaign to date, enumerating 30 dead (five "nationals" and 25 natives', 70 wounded (20 nationals" and 50 natives), and 33 missing, (all natives.)

I would suggest on football nights, three hours of balmy, rainless air, and after that, well let it rain, or maybe snow for all I care. But while a football game is on, the rain detracts from all the fun, which is just why I would suggest, dry nights, the weather's sixty-one.

PLAN BIG LEGION RALLY

State Legion Head Is Coming

Will Address Western Pennsylvania Counties In Membership Rally Here

PLANS IN CHARGE OF GASTON POST

Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, ha.. been signally honored in being chosen to entertain State Commander Jack McDade and the representatives of Legion posts in Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Venango counties at a membership rally here early in November.

The exact date of the meeting has not been selected but it will be sometime between November 5 and 12.

Commander James E. Moorhead and members of the post were apprised of the matter by Western Vice Commander William Smith, of DuBoise, when they attended the meeting in Monaca, Wednesday evening, when a district commander was chosen to replace Dewey Markey, who had resigned. His place was filled by Frank Moulter, of Beaver Falls.

It is expected that more than five hundred Legionnaires will be here for this membership rally.

The New Castle post was chosen because of the splendid membership record attained last year and also because of its strategic location.

tion of an air-tight ban on sales of munitions to Italy, is almost certain to be voted by the council of 16 today, authorities said.

Capt. Anthony Eden, the British minister, will then demand that all nations of the league refuse to buy Italian goods, thus cutting off Italian exports to most of the world.

Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff, it was learned, is due in Geneva tomorrow and will offer to cut off Italy's supply of naval fuel oil, most of which now comes from the Soviet Union.

Members of the coordinating committee's sub-committee of 16, a practical "general staff" to direct financial and economic measures against Italy, are:

France, Britain, the Soviet Union, Poland, Spain, the Union of South Africa, Argentina, Belgium, Canada Greece, the Netherlands, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Switzerland, Sweden and Turkey.

Meeting for the first time late today, the committee will have power to swell its own number by inviting other countries to sit in.

Three Not Participating.

Austria and Hungary, which voiced their opposition to sanctions before the league assembly yesterday; Albania, which inserted its negative vote today, and Italy and Ethiopia, as the principals in the quarrel, are not participating in the work of the coordinaters.

This leaves 49 nations on that committee, plus Abyssinia, aligned against Italy. Switzerland, although on the committee, has insisted on her neutrality rights, and several other nations have indicated they seek varying degrees of exemption.

Explaining why Albania felt obligated to raise her voice today after yesterday's silence, Mr. Fracheri, speaking of King Zog, said:

"The Albanian government is faithful to the League of Nations covenant.

"But because of the Italo-Albanian treaty of alliance, Albania cannot be associated with the measures that are being prepared against Italy."

Assembly Adjourns.

After hearing Fracheri's statement, the assembly was adjourned—not dissolved—so that members are held in readiness to meet again at a call from Chairman Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia in case of any emergency.

Premier Pierre Laval returned to Paris after the assembly session, but first held a conference with Capt. Eden, in which it was understood that a united Franco-British front on the uncharted ground the league is now treading was pledged once more.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi, the Italian delegate, whose last minute plea for a more elastic covenant fell on deaf ears, entrained for Rome, but Italian circles said this does not mean that Italy intends now to leave the league.

Closing the assembly, Benes answered some of the points in Aloisi's speech yesterday, then summarized the historic action of the league:

"First, four states, Italy, Austria, Hungary and Albania, stated they were against sanctions.

"Second, 50 states, members of the assembly and present at its meeting, condemned Italy and accepted the application of sanctions."

Arms Embargo Vs. Italy

Geneva, Oct. 11.—The "general staff" of the League of Nations machinery to apply sanctions against Italy today adopted an arms embargo against Italy, naming a ban on the same weapons listed under the Roosevelt embargo proclamation. The embargo will become effective tomorrow it was learned.

Rushing into action with hardly a moment's delay, the "general staff", a sub-committee of 16 nations appointed earlier in the day to actually direct application of the anti-Italian penalties, approved the Roosevelt ban on exportation of arms ammunition and implements of war.

NEUTRALITY NOW RESTS WITH PEOPLE

cans trading with the belligerents, has done all in its power to keep this country out of war.

Serious Danger

The government has no authority to actually prohibit trade, except in implements of war, with Italy or Ethiopia. It feels, however, that such trade, especially the lure of war profits involves a serious danger to maintenance of American neutrality.

The fear prevails that if, for instance, American commercial interests should seek to obtain the Italian markets which might become available because of the refusal of League members to trade with Italy, this country might quickly become involved in the same right-to-trade difficulties with League members that it experienced with both the allies and Germany in the early days of the world war, and which finally led to American entry into the war.

Therefore, Secretary Hull feels the responsibility for keeping the United States out of Europe's latest war now rests largely with the American people rather than with the government.

to the Ethiopian emperor), and Kassa Araia (presumably not Ras Kassa), both of whom were claimed to have joined the Italian forces with their respective armies on the northern front yesterday.

The communique contained extensive denials of various foreign reports indicating the Italians were having a tough time of it, and disclosed that the general command will be transferred "in the next few days" from Eritrea into conquered Ethiopian territory.

As soon as the communique was made known in downtown Rome, all radios relayed a broadcast of the fascist hymn, followed by a funeral dirge in memory of the fallen.

Fight To Finish

Premier Mussolini, in the face of the world front in opposition to his East African venture, mustered the industrial and commodity resources of Italy for a fight to the finish against the imminent sanctions to be applied against him. He issued a decree nationalizing war industries and providing for dictatorial powers to control prices. He mobilized all workers.

A government spokesman denied any shake-up was contemplated in the Italian high command in Africa. Other sources said it was unthinkable that General Emilio De Bono, one of the original "quadrumbiri," would be replaced after the fascists's first national victory, the retaking of Adowa, and the wiping out of a stain that has been on Italy's military escutcheon for 39 years.

industries, maintain rigid control of industrial employment, and provide for training workers to replace those who may be mobilized for military service.

Many of these replacements, it was expected, will be women.

This was Mussolini's first step in the progressive defense he plans against the League's progressive sanctions.

This was the "discipline" part of his policy declaration: "Economic measures we shall meet with discipline and obedience; military sanctions with military measures; and acts of war with acts of war."

Mussolini has consistently said that a naval blockade of Italy would be regarded as "an act of war."

At the same time, Mussolini made it clear that he is determined to go on with his military campaign.

This was shown by the departure of Field Marshall Pietro Badoglio for East Africa.

It is believed that Badoglio, who is chief of the Italian army general staff, will make a first hand investigation of the military situation and report back to Mussolini.

of the various colonies assembled to choose a method of governing the various states.

The ringing addresses of Madison, Paterson, Hamilton and Franklin, were again verbatino, with Clarence A. Patterson taking the role of Alexander Hamilton; Wylie McCaslin, the role of James Madison; George W. Muse, the role of William Paterson; and Walter S. Reynolds, the role of Benjamin Franklin.

Judges Give Background

All took their parts in a splendid manner, and those who attended, were given a clearer insight of what our constitution stands for, and why it should be preserved.

As a prelude to the drama, Hon. R. Lawrence Hildebrand, and Hon. James A. Chambers, the judges of the Lawrence County court, gave addresses telling of the events which led up to the calling of the constitutional convention, what it meant to the people of that day and this, and why our constitution should be preserved.

The first episode depicted the opening of the convention on May 25, 1787, and the election of George Washington as the presiding officer. The role of Washington was taken by Samuel H. Hadley, of Sharon, who fits into the character in an admirable manner.

The second episode covered the proceedings on May 28, 1787, when resolutions governing the procedure of the convention and the various plans of the different states were presented.

The third episode showed the bickerings between the states over what plan should be adopted, one representative even suggesting that a King should be chosen to rule for life.

The final episode showed harmony being restored to the convention, and the final changes being adopted, ending with the signing of the historical document.

Music appropriate to the occasion was rendered by the Cathedral Symphony orchestra, under the leadership of Judy Sypher.

Costumes Brilliant

In addition, there were several tableaux presented, showing "The Spirit of '76", and "Mollie Pitcher at Monmouth", followed by a Civil War scene depicting Lincoln at Washington; a Spanish-American War scene, "San Juan Hill," and a World War scene, "Over There." The latter was enacted by members of Troop F., 103rd Cavalry.

The finale was the scene of "Betsy Ross and the Flag," which was portrayed by Miss Margert A. Toepfer, the only woman member of the Lawrence County bar. The audience joined in the singing of "America."

The costuming was characteristic of the time, and those taking part wore the brilliantly colored coats and waistcoats of the time. This feature was under the direction of W. A. Taylor of the Scottish Rite Cathedral Staff.

The historical pageant will be presented again this evening for the members of the Consistory and their friends. Last evening's production was arranged for the public and many school children attended.

It was announced by the committee that children under 16 would not be admitted this evening unless accompanied by their parents or an adult person. The doors will be open at 7:30, and those who are without tickets will not be admitted until after 8:10. No blue tickets will be used for this evening's performance.

NOTED ARTISTS WED IN NEW YORK CITY

Conveying distinct interest to New Castleites is announcement of the marriage this afternoon, October 11, at 4 o'clock of Marion Selee, well known metro-contralto of New York City, to Tom Emlyn Williams, son of Mrs. Rhys Williams of New York City, formerly of New Castle.

The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. B. F. Keanan, 1365 Hunter avenue, Pelham Manor, N. Y., by Dr. Cynalwyn Pugh of the Welsh Presbyterian church, New York City. Wedding music was rendered by Cecelia Sherman, soprano of the American Opera company, and Justin Williams, a brother of the groom.

Informal wedding and traveling clothes were worn by the bride. The young couple will reside in New York City.

In connection with the marriage of these two well known artists, it is interesting to note that it was the culmination of a romance which began in Atlantic City this past summer while they were both singing in a production of "Martha" on the Steel Pier. The bride was carrying the title role, while Mr. Williams was Sir Tristram.

Mrs. Williams has done work with the San Carlo Opera company, the Detroit Civic Opera, New York Opera Comique and the Chautauqua Opera association, being identified with Miss Jessie L. Mockel of East Grant street, also a member of the latter association. The bride has also been recitalist at Jordan Hall, in Boston, and sung in the Worcester, Mass., festival.

Mr. Williams is also a concert artist, now connected with N. B. C., New York City, as staff artist. He is soloist at the big church in New York City most frequented by theatrical folk, and is a member of the American Opera company.

INFORMAL PARTY AT LEPPLY HOME

Last evening, many activities took place in New Castle, and one party given by Miss Lillian Lepply when she entertained informally, a group of friends in her North Cedar street home.

The guest list included a circle of close friends of the hostess, and the hours were pleasantly spent with several tables of bridge. Music and other features also added pleasure to the event. Prizes for card honors, were captured by Misses Edythe Pedersen of Jamestown, N. Y., and Edythe Levine of this city.

Varied shades of green, blending from the palest hue to a deep rich moss green shade, combined with seasonal appointments, prevailed in the menu and table decorations. The hostess was assisted in serving the tasty lunch by Lillian Rosenberg, at the close of the evening.

Invited to the dining room for refreshments, the guests were served dainty and colorful delicacies from a lace covered table, centered with a gorgeous bouquet of chrysanthemums and other flowers in autumn hues. Saturday evening, October 12, the social committee of the New Castle Field Club, has planned a dance program for its membership headed by C. L. Shira.

Social Evening

Thursday evening, at the home of Mrs. Ellen Pilshaw, on West Washington street, W. C. B. class members of Wesley M. E. church had a pleasant social time. Mrs. Nick Raymond led the devotionals, after which the business period was in charge of the president, Mrs. R. G. Leslie.

It was decided to hold a freak Hallowe'en social at the church Wednesday, October 30, and guests may or may not attend masked. During the social hour, delicious home-made candy was served by the hostess.

November 14, the group will meet at the home of Mrs. Barbara Grittie, Hart street.

O. G. Club

Mrs. Lester Cox, of the Pulaski road, was a charming hostess to members of the O. G. Club Thursday evening. For the occasion the home was brightly decorated with pretty flowers. Card playing was offered as the evening's pastime and proved most enjoyable, as usual.

The favors for scores were won by Mrs. Homer Measel, and Mrs. Chas. Kelliher. Mrs. Cox, assisted by Mrs. Helen Brickner, served a tasty lunch at the close of the card games.

Mrs. Ben Steinbrink was present as a special guest.

In two weeks the club will have a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. C. F. Brickner, Hutchinson St.

Ill In Detroit

Local friends of Mrs. Walter E. McClure, of Detroit, Mich., wife of the former pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will regret to learn that she has been seriously ill for the past three weeks at her home.

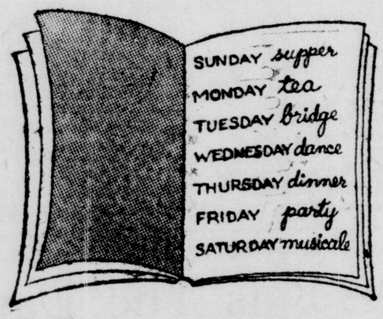

Israel Sisterhood

Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock, in the Tifereth Israel Synagogue, South Jefferson street, members of the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood will hold their first meeting of the year. Hostesses will be Mrs. Lew Kulkin, Mrs. H. Solomon, Mrs. A. Mervis, Mrs. S. Wolfe and Mrs. M. Slaven.

REPUBLICAN TREND IN CONNECTICUT

IF THE "small town" elections in Connecticut are indicative of the trend of political sentiment, that state is headed away from the New Deal and right into the Republican camp.

While the Democrats tried to confine themselves to local issues, the Republicans declined to do so. They made it known that they regarded the contests as important, preliminary to the presidential battle of next year. The only community of comparative size that switched from the Republican to the Democratic side was Wallingford. Otherwise where the Democrats retained their hold it was by largely reduced majorities, while the Republicans not only maintained their grip upon virtually every town where they had been in power, but made serious inroads upon Democratic municipalities. While not a Republican sweep of everything in sight, it was distinctly a Republican triumph.

Democratic strength in Connecticut began to show itself in 1930 when Governor Cross was elected. The state managed to cling to Hoover in 1932 by the meagre plurality of 6788 votes, but in 1934 there was a Democratic upheaval. But it is evident that there has been considerable hard thinking of late, and this thinking is revealing itself in the very decided swing of Tuesday back to Republican principles. Coming, as it does, after the Rhode Island blast at the New Deal, it is significant.

DETERMINING THE FAMOUS

Before October 15 about 100 electors will register their choices among seventy-six candidates for admission to the Hall of Fame at New York University.

The most summary perusal of the list reveals some sharp contrasts. On it, for example, are Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, and Frederick Douglass, born a slave and noted as an orator for abolition. The feminine names—there are ten of them—are mostly those of early workers for what were denominated as "Women's rights." Most persons of considerable cultivation would be sent to the reference books to determine for what a good many names on the list are noted. It is a little disconcerting to see on the same list Rev. Peter Bulkeley, Puritan clergyman, who died in 1658, and Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll.

Halls of fame, like politics, make queer associates. Whoever is elected, there will be a considerable element of students of history who will complain injustice has been done by individual exclusions. Those most immediately affected would perhaps smile could they return from their long sleep to see the relative importance being attached to their names.

TIRE OF RELIEF—START BUSINESS

A group of Kensas City's "unemployables," men in their late sixties and seventies, have banded together in a "Fathers Club and Self-Help Projects.' They are working in a factory operated by themselves, making novelties which they sell.

Private funds financed them at the start, but the men were doing useful work and soon created considerable demand for their output, which consists of lawn chairs, ironing boards, dolls, toy motor cars, doorstops and rubber doormats.

The best thing about the project is that many of these men were unemployed and on relief. They got tired of relief and worked out a plan for their own economic salvation. An idle factory was found, and the co-operative organization developed.

The men profit in many intangible ways. Almost ready to give up hope for independence and jobs, they have now proved their usefulness to themselves. Confidence has replaced fear and that feeling of being beaten and useless.

WILL HAUPTMANN CONFESS?

Will Bruno Richard Hauptmann break down and tell all—if and when he goes to the electric chair?

The answer is: "No."

Seldom in the annals of American crime have doomed men met their fate with an admission of guilt. Having everything to gain and nothing to lose by protests of innocence, they sit in the chair or allow the noose to be placed around their neck with one final display of the bravado of martyrdom.

If Hauptmann was sufficiently coldblooded to kidnap the Lindbergh baby and do him to death, he is sufficiently unemotional to withstand the horror of electrocution.

Colonel Kimberling, principal keeper of the New Jersey state prison, reports that the condemned man exhibits a "steely nerve," no signs of worry and an ability to gain weight during incarceration in the death house.

That kind of a person does not lose his self-control at the last minute, even though he is about to take the fateful step to eternity.

WHY THEY ARE CALLED SANCTIONS

In ordinary usage the word sanction implies endorsement or approval. How did it come to be applied, as by the League of Nations Covenant, to punishments for transgression? The history of words is always interesting. In this case it is not so obscure as it seems. In Latin sanctio is the noun, originally meaning a law or decree, particularly in ecclesiastical matters. In 1635 it was the specific penalty enacted in order to secure obedience to a law. The Covenant meaning is thus a penalty for infringing international law as defined in that document. It is a not unnatural derivative from the definition of "binding force given to an oath."

One of the first applications of it in this sense was the edict of Charles VII of France in 1436, which was the basis of the liberties of the Gallican Church. The Emperor Charles VI in 1724 setlled the succession to the Austrian throne by what is known in history as the Pragmatic Sanction—pragmatic in this case being derived from the Greek work for official.

In all the news from Italy, there is nothing to suggest whether Mussolini has bothered to tell the king that he has started the country out on another war.

London has a school to teach women how to shop, so it would seem to be no longer in order to ridicule the notion of carrying coals to Newcastle or even teaching a puppy the interesting business of gnawing at a bone.

Still Guessing.
Hauptmann To Die.
We Have Much Gold.
A Friend For Italy.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

YOU MUST continue guessing about news from Ethiopia because dispatches "from the seat of war" mean little.

For instance, the Ethiopian town of Adigrat was NOT recaptured, the day before yesterday, and the Ethiopians did NOT make a great and successful raid of the Italian territory of Eritrea.

DIPLOMATS of other countries in Addis Ababa ask the United States to tell Mussolini not to bomb the city and risk hurting those diplomats. Our secretary of state, Mr. Hull, requests Italy not to bomb United States property or citizens in Addis Ababa, which means asking him not to bomb the place.

It seems difficult for us to keep out of other people's business. The president warns American citizens to keep off foreign boats, or travel on them at their risk. Mr. Hull might well warn Americans to keep out of Addis Ababa or stay there at their risk, and tell the diplomats that ask for our protection :

"Your countries got you into this, tell them to get you out."

EUROPEANS are getting out of Addis Ababa, embarking to Djibouti, as fast as small trains can carry them. Miss Barton, the British minister's daughter, left. Her father knows that air bombs are uncertain.

In Rome, Ethiopia's charge de affaires, whose interesting name is Yesus Afevork, requests his passport. He does that automatically, because Ethiopia has requested the Italian minister to go home, accusing him of spying.

You wonder what an Italian minister in a country at war with his own nation would be expected to do. He would hardly shut his eyes.

FAIRLY RELIABLE reports show that Italy holds three of the most important Ethiopian cities outside of Addis Ababa—Adowa, Adigrat and the "Holy city" of Aksum.

Unless and until Addis Ababa is taken, the Ethiopian emperor will not worry. Fighting Ethiopians in their vast mountain territories, even after cities are captured, may prove

WHO'S A SYMPTOMANIAC?

I'VE JUST read a medical article—and I wish I hadn't.

Too many "symptoms" in it.

And as I read along, I kept checking up, checking up, checking up, comparing me with those symptoms...Once upon a time I had that pain in my side, that dizziness, that sleepiness, that headache, that cough.

I fitted right into the medical article....I was the patient. I was the subject, I was the guy with all the aches and pains. It was a wonder I was walking around the streets....I ought to be in bed, I ought to see a doctor, I ought to have an examination. Perhaps he'd tell me the truth. Perhaps he wouldn't.

But whatever he did, I wouldn't be satisfied. If the truth was alarming, I'd worry.....if he soothed me, I'd suspect he was lying....Either way what good would it do me?

So I found another article by another doctor on the psychology of reading medical articles....And HE explained that the healthiest man in the world can read one of them and feel that if he doesn't do something about himself he'll probably fall to pieces on a street corner some day.....The body's not a simple construction. It's very complicated, and constantly adjusting itself to growth to our changing ways of living. Objecting to some element in our conduct warning us to go slow....All of us have "symptoms" all the time, and few of them are of any real importance....But most of us are symptomaniacs!

And we needn't be "viewing with alarm," everything that happens to us. We're not immortal, but we're not as flimsy as we sometimes fear. ....Our grandfather lived to be 86 years old. A great uncle fell out of a tree in his seventies. Grandmother had aches and pains all her life but she was more than 75 when she died.....Only a scared cat gets excited about a few words in a medical article—and how about going to the football game next Saturday? ....All right, I'll see you there.

When an elderly business man died one of his friends who was away, being unable to return in time for the funeral, telephoned his home florist to prepare a suitable wreath, with ribbon. The florist was away, and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide, and bore the inscription: "Rest in Peace on Both Sides, and if There Is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."

Culver Observer—Then came the contest of vocal solos. Miss Bessie Varner, of Culver, rendered a most beautiful solo entitled "Sing On!" She was followed by Miss Tillie Huggins, of Elk Run, who sang a silly little love song which ran, "All That I Want in This Wide, Wide World is You, You, You!" Two of the judges, who were attracted by this love-song, ranked her first. Apparently they could not appreciate really good music. We deem their decision of little value. Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By Francine Markel

Illness has caused me to withdraw from my circle of friends and as I am now well again I would like to revive old friendships. I am considering giving a bridge. Could you suggest a menu for my refreshments, and what should I give as prizes?

Answer—A bridge party would be an ideal method of reviving your old friendships. Here is my suggestion for a menu: Tea, sandwiches, a beverage and fancy cakes—if the party is to take place in mid-afternoon, when only the lightest refreshments should be served.

If you intend to serve a luncheon I suggest cold sliced meat, a salad, tea or coffe and French pastry.

Give a first prize for the highest score and a second prize for that next highest. The following would be in excellent taste for such prizes: A compact, two or three dainty handkerchiefs, an evening handkerchief, a beauty kit, dress clips, a box of candy, a bridge set (score pad, cards, etc.), dusting powder, bath crystals.

Economics To Be Factor.
Will Affect Election.
Reviews World Situation.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Economists believe there will be only one issue in the 1936 election—economic.

Varied interests will try to base a campaign on other issues, but those other issues will have no effect on the people, because they are not basically related to the desires of the people, according to the economists.

President Roosevelt stands to gain all along the line if present inflationary tendencies continue up to November, 1936, say these economists. It is an even guess whether there will be a break prior to that time. The best guess is that prices (and government debt) will continue rising to beyond November, 1936.

There may be obstructions. For example, the U. S. supreme court may hold vital provisions of the AAA unconstitutional. But that would be looked upon as favoring President Roosevelt as against those who oppose artificial prices. Indeed, an adverse decision on the AAA might hasten inflation, putting it altogether out of control. (There are many plans in the farm regions.)

And the supreme court, itself, might find itself checked by a surge of farmers and workers toward constitutional amendments curbing its power.

This, at present, the president is on the popular economic side. The "balanced budget" pleas of his opponents carry little weight with the mass of people, who are thinking up new schemes to unbalance the budget still further.

AN EXCELLENT REVIEW

A bird's-eye view of the world economic situation is presented by Dr. Melchior Palyi, guest professor at the University of Chicago and former economist for the Deutsche bank in Berlin.

We tkae the liberty of quoting from an interview with Dr. Palyi by Howard Wood, financial editor of the Chicago Tribune, because it is a concise review of the entire situation.

Mr. Wood's article reads:

"Every important nation, with the possible exception of Great Britain, Dr. Palyi points out, is still spending much more than it receives in revenues borrowing to cover the deficit. In the United States the government is borrowing from the banks, with a consequent inflation of bank deposits paralleling the rise in the national debt.

"In central European countries, including Italy, where banks are either unwilling or unable to lend to their governments, he says, the governments have hit upon the ingenious scheme of simply confiscating the hoards and bank deposits of private corporations and individuals, giving them government bonds in exchange. Then as the governments spend the money on public works or boondoggling and it is redeposited in banks it is confiscated again and respent by the government. Each time, however, there is less to confiscate.

GERMANY'S CONDITION

Mr. Wood quoted Dr. Palyi as adding:

"The true financial condition of Germany, Italy and other central European nations cannot be ascertained from the official published reports. Purposely the finances are concealed through a maze of complicated transactions. Money passes through the hands not only of the treasury, but of various government corporations. There must be a record somewhere, but it is kept secret from the public.

"For that reason it is impossible to discover just how bad is the condition of the various governments. For example, recently it was disclosed, apparently by officials of the Bank of England, that Italy's published reports of her remaining gold reserves were misleading because a large part of the gold she included in her total figures was actually in the possession of the Bank of England as security for debts to the British.

"Central European dictatorships are hard put to raise funds to meet their extraordinary expenditures to cover the dole, make work schemes and subsidies for exporters. They dare not resort to the obvious expedient of printing press money, because the disastrous experiences of the post-war currency inflation are still too fresh in the minds of the people. And they have been unable to borrow from the banks or from foreign countries. Therefore, they have simply confiscated private capital."

Resumption of the free flow of capital and goods, Dr. Palyi believes (Mr. Wood says), would be the best possible step that could be taken to stimulate real recovery, but foreign trade is being constricted by government deficits, import restrictions, attempts by each nation to freeze its prices at existing levels, and unwillingness of capital to seek new investments in nations where the financial outlook is so clouded.

EUROPEAN LOANS "FROZEN"

Mr. Wood's article continues, saying:

"The big English banks, Dr. Palyi adds, will not resume their foreign lending because they are already heavily involved in loans to central European nations which have been 'frozen' and the British dare not write off these loans as losses, as American banks have done, because such write-offs would wipe out their capital.

"The experience of the central European nations, Dr. Palyi says, has shown that attempts to peg prices are merely devices to protect vested interests and that they add to government deficits because in attempting to maintain price levels the governments have been forced to reach into the public treasuries for subsidies to support exporters.

"The bright spot in central Europe, he adds, is Austria, which, under the influence of a liberal bank management, has reversed its former policy by adopting a free trade policy and permitting the exportation of gold."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

IT WOBBLES A BIT.

Contrary to general belief our most accurate clocks do not correspond exactly with the sun, for the truth of the matter is that sun-time is accurate for only about four seconds each year. For the remainder of the 365.2421 days of the year, says one who seems to have figured in calculus the sun is either ahead of or behind time.

Old Sol's greatest variation occurs about the beginning of November when he crosses the meridian about sixteen minutes before noon and again about the middle of February when he crosses the meridian about fifteen minutes past noon. Consequently, scientists have been forced to set up a mean standard of time by which to regulate our clocks.

RETURN

Would I go back to my youth once more?
"Never again," say I,
"Unless you could be as you were before
As I chanced to be passing by.

"If I were sure that we'd meet again
And knowing what now we know,
You'd join with me for the journey, then
Glad would I be to go.

"If I were sure as I went along
That I should discover you,
Young and lovely among the throng,
Youth would I then renew.

"Life, as we've known it together, Yes!
Gladly I'd live that o'er.
But to go it alone without your caress,
No! No! as I've said before."

Case, b. 1888, onetime governor of Rhode Island, member of Federal Communications Commission.

Today's Yesterdays—Oct. 11, 1776—On this and two succeeding days, Benedict Arnold, as the first commander of a United States fleet, was a hero.

With a fleet of vessels he built with scant help from the Continental Congress, he engaged a twice as powerful British fleet in Lake Champlain, and while his losses were greatest, halted the British advance from Canada toward the Hudson. The expedition had to be potsponed until the following year, thus giving the colonists the opportunity to make better preparations and force Burgoyne's surrender in the battle of Saratoga.

Oct. 11, 1890—The Daughters of the American Revolution was organized.

It is estimated that 395,000 men, including many Negroes, served in the Continental army, although the greatest strength of the army at any one time during the conflict was 35,000, due to desertions, termination of enlistments, casualties, captures and executions.

Oct. 11, 1912—The celebrated Danbury (Conn.) Hatter's case was decided against the hatters' union. It was ordered to pay $250,000 damages for losses incurred by concerns during a strike.

That deeds and wills executed on Sunday are void.

This isn't true.

That the Sahara desert is covered with sand, and it never rains there.

The Sahara has a lot of vegetation in places, and rains aren't unusual. There's even snow in the Sahara—in some of the high places.

Gasoline Tank Blast Kills One

Philadelphia Man Loses Life, Another Burned As Tank Lets Go

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—A tiny electrical spark from pumping apparatus was blanmed today for the explosion of a 200,000-gallon gasoline storage tank that killed one employe of the Richfield Oil corporation here and seriously injured another in the company's Schuylkill river oil terminal.

James Richards, 30, a university of Pennsylvania graduate and assistant plant superintendent, was killed instantly as 1,000 gallons of gasoline in the huge cylinder detonated. With Leo Hill, 34, Richards was standing beside the tank when it gave way with a roar heard for several miles. Hill suffered severe burns, but is expected to recover.

Prompt action by firemen prevented spread of the flames although the wrecked tank collapsed against another storage container.

as difficult as was the hunting of the red Indians by Uncle Sam in the western mountains, except that Uncle Sam had no airplanes then.

NEW JERSEY'S Court of Errors and Appeals rejects the appeal of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted of kidnaping and murdering Col. Lindbergh's child. Barring further legal delay, this means execution for Hauptmann, probably in November, which would wipe the case from the records.

Hauptmann is said to have written the story of his life with every detail, except confession of his crime. His biography will interest the morbid. His execution, and an end to one of the most dreadful cases in criminal history, will interest the whole world.

YOUR UNCLE SAM is very rich now, never had so much gold in his life. The total pile, "an all time high", amounts to more than FIFTEEN BILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

It wouldn't be such a big pile of gold if the government had not ingeniously raised the price of the gold ounce.

Gold has been coming rapidly from Europe lately, including some gold that frightened Americans sent abroad for its health.

Those that bring it back are frightened needlessly. There will be no European war. France would not go into it, nor would England. Both have had enough war for the present.

MUSSOLINI will be delighted, England annoyed, by Austria's refusal to join the good little boys and girls of the League of Nations in their denunciation of Italy, applying sanctions to that country.

Austria remembers that Italy came to her rescue at the time of the German Nazi "pusch" after Dollfuss was assassinated. She is joined by Hungary in supporting Italy against the league's sanctions. The Austrian communication says:

"Austria will not fail (Italy) in friendship, which is destined to last throughout time that is to come."

THE AMERICAN LEGION and the American Federation of Labor, according to Universal Service, have "cemented a united front against Communism."

As there are only 30,000 registered Communists in the United States, and some "sign up" because they are young and want excitement, the American Federation and the American Legion, combined, should be able to meet any Communistic danger.

SOME SAY that if you pay too much attention to a little thing you end by making it dangerous.

Others reply, with sound reason, that this does not apply to a little collection of smallpox or Asiatic cholera germs. To get rid of them, no matter how few, is wise.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, aged 96, left yesterday for Orlando Beach and Florida's mild winter climate. His Lakewood. N. J., household reports Mr. Rockefeller in good health.

Everybody will be glad to hear that, for, in addition to giving hundreds of millions to education, science and the protection of public health, at a time when such gifts were unknown, Mr. Rockefeller has rendered public service for all time by demonstrating the folly of unrestricted, unregulated competition.

To that sort of competition and its overproduction, plus the task of paying for that big war, this country owes its present difficulties.

Party Will Aid Hospitals Here

Elks Community Card Event Announced Today For November 22

CHARITY FUND TO SHARE PROCEEDS

The Jameson Memorial and New Castle Hospitals and the charity fund of the New Castle Lodge of Elks, No. 69, will jointly benefit from the "community card party" the Elks will sponsor at the Elks home on Friday, November 22, it was learned today.

Harry Alexander was announced as general chairman for the party with Jacob Cosel as secretary. Other main aides will be Harry G. Harris and S. S. Mehard.

Announcement of the benefit card party was made as the lodge today placed on public sale tickets for the event which will raise funds to help the two hospitals and the lodge charity fund which furnishes aid throughout the year to extra-needy families.

Committee heads for the party arrangements were announced as follows:

Publicity, Fred L. Rentz; tickets, Clark H. Buell; chairs and tables, P. H. Scanlon; reception, Attorney T. W. Dickey; checking, Walter C. DeArment; ushers, C. W. Herman Hess; women's card committee, Louis B. Round; prizes, Jack Gerson; entertainment, Attorney Geo. W. Muse; refreshments, E. J. Ryan; finance, A. C. Hyde. Mr. Round will name a lady shortly to act as assistant chairman of the women's card committee. Full committees have been chosen.

Tickets for the party, the committee announced, are being printed by the Haney Furniture Company while Jack Gerson is providing 150 prizes for the winners.

BIRTHS

(Announcements to appear in this column must be signed with name and address of writer, and also give name of doctor.)

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kroesen of Tempalena avenue, Rigby Post Office, announce the birth of a son on October 8, who has been named Lyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hasbach, rear 604 Line avenue, Ellwood City, announce the birth of a daughter on September 30, who has been named Phyllis Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Leese, of 103 South Walnut street, announce the birth of a son on October 10.

On Court House Hill

Letters of administration have been issued at the register and recorder's office to George McNally in the estate of the late Rolland O. McNally, and to Pearl T. Kerr in the estate of the late William E. Thomas of Perry township.

County commissioners have sent all the data necessary for the state highway department, preliminary to letting the contract for the completion of the Volant road. Many people wonder why this road was not finished into Voland at the time it was improved. According to the story told, a mistake was made in the measurements of the distance to be improved, and after the contract had been let and the work started, it was found that an error had been made, but there was no way of rectifying it, except by an additional contract, and it has required some time to get it approved.

Janitor Clifford James may swing a wicked brush when it comes to interior painting, but Jack Frost is now giving him an object lesson in exterior work. Trees on the court house lawn are beginning to look as though they had been touched by the brush of a raphael; red, yellow and green in all the shades and tints make up the gorgeous decorations. And the old court house just sits there, sodden in its dullness, never complaining, although some times a wierd sound is heard from the belfry, which has been promised brighter colors for many years, but never gets them.

Under an agreement made between the county commissioners and the public service commission the latter is to take up the matter of securing settlements for damages to property which is to be taken for the proposed Edenburg bridge and viaduct. It is the intention of the commission to find out just what the damages are likely to amount to and to get releases on the best terms possible. The county has signified a willingness to pay half the amount up to a certain figure. It it is found that the damages will amount to substantially more than the amount estimated, it is likely that further conferences will be held before anything definite is done toward building the bridge. The viaduct will extend from the south end of the bridge, across fields to the Pennsylvania railroad crossing, where it will connect with the hill west of the crossing. The Pennsylvania railroad lines will go under it.

Speaking of ways of making money a man with a brush and bucket of paint was canvassing houses in the vicinity of the court house yesterday offering to paint mail boxes for five cents. This enterprising workman had noticed that mail boxes get rusty after they have been in use for some time, and capitalized his idea by offering to make them look like new for a nickle. He seemed to be doing a good business.

County Welfare Director M. B. Hogue reports that there has been a gradual increase in the number of families receiving help since last July. During that month there were 370 cases on the rolls. The number now amounts to considerably over 400, and it is believed that by the end of the month it will reach the 500 mark. The increase is due largely to a shifting of cases from the emergency relief to the county relief. The emergency relief takes care only of the employables, and the county the unemployables. There are various contingencies which arise which tends to put those in the employable class to the unemployable, to the disadvantage of the county. Temporary illness is one of the causes, another is mental troubles. The county has had to send considerable number of cases to hospitals during the past year. Then there are cases where families are split up by the separation of parents. If the children are left with the mother, she cannot go out to work unless they are old enough to take care of themselves, and another case is put on the county. Somewhat similar conditions arise when the children are left with the father. Then there are cases where the father is sent to jail for some offense. The family is added to the county relief rolls. Again there is the problem of taking care of young people, whose parents die. All these forces unite to swell the county welfare cases. There are now about 175 cases in the county home, there having been little change since last winter.

Banking Act Merits Given Stinted Praise

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—Frank F. Brooks, president of the Pittsburgh First National Bank and newly elected president of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, today had predicted many beneficial effects would result from the banking act of 1935.

Addressing the Pittsburgh chapter of the American Institute of Banking, Brooks said:

"There is a lot of good in this 1935 act, which came after strenuous efforts were put forth in Washington. I think that conservative bankers generally are fairly well satisfied with it."

Denouncing such agencies as the Home Owners' Loan Association, Brooks declared:

"Submissive silence is no longer wise or safe, we must get out and assert ourselves and stand up for this thing called American banking."

The scouts will meet Saturday at 10 o'clock and will enjoy a trip through the fire department.

Handicraft was under the direction of Florence Snyder. The meeting closed with Friendship Circle and the repeating of benediction.

WAS "PENNY WISE" BUT "POUND FOOLISH"

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa.,—Deputy City Assessor Harry Stoner's attempt to salvage a few gallons of gasoline from an automobile he was trading in cost him two automobiles, most of his garage, his wife's electric sweeper, his moustache, and eyebrows and brought him burns on the face, and scalp. Stoner attempted to use the sweeper's suction power to extract gasoline from the old machine. His method worked perfectly until the gasoline came in contact with electric current. That produced an explosion and fire which accounted for the enumerated damage.

SECRET OF HAPPY LIFE EASY TO FIND

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11—The secret of happiness is easy, says Dr. Silas S. Neff, founder and head of the Neff College of oratory here, who has only 82 years of experience on which to base his observations.

Still interested "in a thousand things" and busy teaching classes four day and five nights a week, Dr. Neff is "never tired" and, as he puts it, is "happy all the time."

Two short phrases sum up Dr. Neff's secret— "normal mental growth" and "normal living." Living with those principles in mind, he says he will still be teaching when he reaches 90 years of age.

AROUND CITY HALL

Director of property Joseph D. Alexander has not yet decided whether or not he will recommend the city lease the Carnegie Steel company's auditorium on South Jefferson street. The contract submitted by the corporation to the city, according to reports, is not to his liking. One of the provisions is that the building cannot be sub-let. Were the building accepted and the lease signed it naturally would be desired for basketball and other sports. Unless the city maintained its own supervision the building could not be sub-let, hence there would be no benefits derived financially. Under the terms of the contract the city shall take care of the taxes, insurance, repairs and the agreement can be terminated by either party upon 30 days notice.

M. J. Young, sergeant of police, in speaking of arrests of colored persons said that as soon as they are arrested friends flock to see what they can do for the prisoners. Some of them hire taxicabs, furnish the prisoners with choice foodstuffs and keep calling as long as their friends are carcerated. When white persons are arrested their visitors are few and it is seldom that they are furnished by their friends with choice eatables.

City hall operations have been decidely slow since before the primaries. The departments are functioning normally. Health conditions are good, the police have no sensations, the street department scraper and roller operate daily and the firemen have not had to combat any serious blazes recently. The only persons working at Cascade Park are the manager and watchmen and the sewage disposal plant operations are causing no trouble. Golf is beginning to fade out, hence inactivity in city hall.

VALLEY FORGE "HOT DOG PLAN" OPPOSED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Proposal by the State Department of Forests and Waters and the Valley Forge Commission to sell post cards sandwiches and soft drinks in the historical state recreation grounds may result in "mere commercialization" of America's famed revolutionary shrine, Mrs. Dobson Eastman warned here.

Mrs. Eastman, herself a member of the commission, advised caution in carrying out the projected "hot dog" plan.

SHARK EATS BOMB BUT, NO EXPLOSION

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—Two men who found a live bomb in the carcass of a large shark are claiming a reward of $500 offered by the governor of Puerto Rico to persons bringing in material intended for use in terrorist attempts. The offer arose out of the recent series of bombings which have disturbed the peace of San Juan. It is believed that the shark swallowed the bomb about two months ago.

EXPERT SAYS BAD POSTURE, BREATHING RESULT IN MUCH OF WORLD'S UNHAPPINESS

(International News Service)

LONDON—Most of the unhappiness in the world today is due to human beings not knowing how to breathe, stand, walk or sit properly.

So declares Dr. L. P. Jack, noted sociologist, who claims these defects are the cause of neurasthenia.

"We breathe with the top of our lungs instead of the bottom," said Dr. Jack in an interview. "We do not know how to balance our bodies in the correct way.

"We waste two-thirds of our energy in wrong and unnecessary muscular movements."

He added wrong body positions and wrong breathing restricted the circulation of the blood.

"As a result of all this, people worry about trifles," he said. "It causes unhappy marriages. It drives people to seek new thrills in cocktails and reckless driving of automobiles.

"It creates irritability, hinders mental development and kills the joy of living."

The correct way to breathe, stand, walk and sit can be taught in a few weeks, according to the educator.

"It comes as naturally as learning to swim," he said.

Dr. Jack referred to the excellent results obtained in an experiment conducted at Philadelphia with 1,000 waitresses and shop girls.

They were taught simple rhythmical exercises to correct faults.

The waitresses found that in carrying trays they had been using the wrong muscles of the back.

After a six-weeks course, they performed an eight-hour day's work with an expenditure of only one-third the energy they had previously used up.

"And the shop girls said it was a pleasure to walk around the shop where it had been a drudgery before," said Dr. Jack.

"They became full of life and laughter and walked like goddesses. It not only helped their health but it aided their beauty."

The sociologist added that he believed the education of the population in the proper use of the body would be the big step forward in human progress in the next 30 years.

Salvaging of the bullion of the steamship Egypt is to be shown in a deep sea film being made from the salvage steamer Artiglio.

Army Office here Makes Good Record

More recruits for the U. S. Army have been obtained so far this month by Sergeant E. J. Permar, in charge of the New Castle recruiting station in the federal building, than by any other branch of the Pittsburgh district. He has recruited eight young men.

Greensburg's station was the only one that topped the local office for recruits last month.

HARRISBURG.—Reports in the office of David L. Lawrence, Secretary of the Commonwealth, show that forty-one certificates of amendment were issued in August, bringing in a total of $1230.

Red Cross Will Inaugurate Big Safety Effort

Safety In Home, On Farms, And Highways Will Be Stressed This Month

CITE APPALLING ACCIDENT RECORD

Under the direction of Ralph F. Davis, chairman of First Aid for the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, a county-wide home, farm, and highway safety effort will be made this month, designed to make every resident of the county accident conscious. This drive is a part of a national campaign which the American National Red Cross will wage.

Apalled by the frightful toll of casualties on the highway and in the home last year, which totalled over 100,000 persons in the United States, with injuries reaching the astounding figure of 5,1000,000 in the home and 1,255,000 on the highway, Red Cross leaders decided early this fall to make accident prevention a major issue.

A campaign which will lead up to Home Inspection Week, October 28 to November 2, will be inaugurated at once, Chairman Davis stated today, and during Home Inspection Week, residents of the city and county will be asked to look over their properties and get rid of hazards which might cause accidents.

The school children are to be enrolled as aids in this safety drive in the home and on the farm, and Mr. Davis will be aided by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of city schools; John C. Syling, superintendent of county schools; and Harold R. McCulloch, extension representative of the Lawrence County Agricultural Association.

Further details of the campaign will be made public by Mr. Davis in the near future.

Men Who Rented Canoe Are Sought Near Harrisburg

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11—Two men who hired a canoe at a Harrisburg boat dock for an "hour or two" on the Susquehanna river became the object of an intensive police hunt today after reports were received that the overturned canoe was sighted and a check showed it had not been returned.

Identification of the men was unknown. They rented the canoe shortly after dark last night and said they would be on the river for an hour or so. More than three hours later, pedestrians on the Walnut street bridge reported sighting an overturned canoe floating in the river.

An all-night search with lanterns failed to reveal traces of the canoe or the men. Police and river authorities set out at dawn to retrace the river.

THERE'S A REASON

Neutrality Is Popular Subject

Is Only Theoretical Matter Now With Few Purchasers In Field

WAR IS CALLED SOMETHING ELSE

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—Neutrality manifestly is very popular throughout the United States at present.

Virtually all comment received in Washington is highly commendatory of President Roosevelt's proclamation banning shipment of war materials to belligerent buyers and warning Americans that, if they venture into danger abroad, they do so at their own peril.

As yet, however, Yankees neutrality is not much more than theoretical. Uncle Sam's trade with Italy has not been large, he has had almost no trade relations with Ethiopia.

ONLY FEW AFFECTED.

Consequently few and only small American interests are affected by the presidential proclamations.

But if hostilities spread with more and greater powers inolved and it becomes apparent that a deal of money is to be made and that many hands are offered employment at the tasks of supplying them, there is sure to be an increasing demand for a chance to take advantage of the opportunity.

The question, too, will arise:
What IS war?

WHAT IS WAR?

Italy has denied that it is at war with Ethiopia, because the former country has not formally DECLARED war. It has professed to be engaged simply in what it describes as a "colonial enterprise."

President Roosevelt took the position that a state of war EXISTS—as it does, and everyone knows it.

Yet suppose that the British, with League of Nations approval, undertake to put a stop to Italy's military activities. Will that be a war, between Britain and Italy? Or will it be an attempt on Britain's part to END a war?—a worthy, pacific purpose.

HOW U. S. COULD BE INVOLVED

Assume Uncle Sam to hold that John Bull, in such a case, is not a belligerent, but a would-be peacemaker: therefore entitled to all the supplies he can get and pay for.

Thus it will be our privilege to sell to Britain.

But Italy (and maybe by that time Germany) certainly will regard the British as full-fledged belligerents.

Now imagine an American ship, paddling across the Mediterranean, trying to deliver a cargo to Britain at Alexandria, or Suez, sunk by an Italian submarine. Wouldn't the incident put a strong strain upon American neutrality?

The problem is extremely complicated.

SEEK TO INTRIGUE U. S.

The League of Nations countries want some such thing to occur.

Their whole policy is to drag the United States into their combination—a nation that has no overseas ambitions in competition with theirs and still is strong enough to support them formidably in favor of their own ambitions.

Americans are not as unsophisticated now as they were early in the last world war.

Europe's credit (Finland's excepted) is bad, with billions of repudiated obligations outstanding. Cash on the nail will be the rule if a new world war breaks out; it is a rule which will have a restraining influence.

PERSISTENT "BITER?"

All the same, Uncle Sam has an international reputation as what confidence men refer to as a "blooming sucker."

An ordinary "sucker" is a "sucker" that bites once, and once only. A "blooming sucker" bites persistently.

Declares 25 Men Determine Fate Of Whole World

By ARTHUR B. DONEGAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Twenty-five men determine the way of life and the fate of the more than two billion people in the world.

A hundred and seventy-five others have a share in determining this fate but barely more than a score are the real rulers—lords and masters of the human race.

So declares the anonymous "unofficial observer," whose previous characterizations of New Dealers and "American Messiahs" stirred minor furores in official circles, in his newest work published today by Simon and Schuster.

Five of the twenty-five, he says in "our lords and masters, known and unknown rulers of the world," hold their roles because they master the consciences of the mass of humanity. They are:

King George V of England, because he is the link that binds the British empire together and maintains the rules of "playing the game, which is the Anglo-Saxon religion."

Pope Pius XI, because he is "not only the supreme moral authority of the world's three hundred million Catholics but because he is the foremost social statesman of the capitalistic world."

Leon Trotsky, because he is one of the world's "greatest journalists and . . . his is the power to dramatize the concept of social justice for the working class as the supreme aim of humanity."

Emperor Hirohito of Japan, "because his subjects regard him as divine and are building the moral theory of Japanese imperialism on his unique pretension to divinity."

Mahatma Gandhi, because he has "turned the religious and social forces of 240,000,000 Hindus to the service of party politics in India."

Other masters of the race, the author declares, are President Roosevelt, because he heads "the world's potentially strongest nation;" Joseph Stalin, "most powerful politician" of the Soviet Union; Montague Collet Norman, governor of the Bank of England, because he carries on "British banking civilization" and determines the financial policies of a quarter of the globe; Adolf Hitler, who has made Germany a "great power" again; Baron James Rothschild, because he heads Europe's strongest banking family; J. P. Morgan, whose firm controls one-quarter of America's wealth; John D. Rockefeller, Jr., because he administers the largest personal fortune in America and the far-flung dominions of his family's oil empire; Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, because he heads Germany's Reichsbank and is "the cleverest financial wizard of his age."

Enon Valley Youth Does Well In Navy

M. L. Nixon. local navy recruiting officer, is in receipt of a letter from Maurice D. Steele who is now in one of the navy's trade training schools at Hampton Roads, Va. He is taking a general course in radio, communications and signalman.

In the first middle period test, Steele received regular code at the rate of eight and one-half words per minute and transmitted at the rate of over ten words per minute. In view of the fact that he has been in the school such a short time and with no previous experience the speed that he made is considered as excellent. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Slater Steele reside in Enon Valley.

MY NEW YORK

By JAS. ASWELL

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—William Saroyan, new darling of the hyperliterati for his short stories, says that it is a mistake to sit down to the typewriter with any preconceived idea....Just sink into the chair and begin tapping; the finest ideas will come that way....Okay, Bill let's try it on the chatter column (as if chatter columns never had been written like that before.)

The baseball season's finis brought relief to many Manhattanites, for when the crucial games were being played crowds packed streets in the most congested areas, watching scoreboards set up by merchants who thought it good adertising.... Even the cops waved at traffic with a distracted glaze over their eyes, and up in 110th Street I noticed a portly, immaculate gentleman in spats with eyes glued on a barber shop window where the hits and runs were being chalked up.....Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of all fans!

And over at the Majectis Theater the other afternoon, the giggling, solemn, rosy cheeked, starry-eyed, scarey-eyed, mascara-eyed and clear-eyed girls answering the chorus call for girls sent out by the new "Ziezfeld Follies"....It was a sobering and enthralling scene.... Every type of young woman (and some not so young) milling and whispering into the vast dark theater, hopeful or doubtful or merely curious....A dance director, someone taking names I judged to be a dance director, said the number would top 1,500 in all

"Lord," he sighed, "look at 'em! Isn't it amazing?"....And it was, for what he meant wasn't difficult to divine: 99 per cent of the girls were instantly and indubitably impossible as chorus beauties..... Some were well along in the forties, some were possibly thirteen or even younger....Many were not only not beautiful but definitely unlovely; nice girls, no doubt, but why should they want chorus work? ....Why should they want it, a still small voice whispers even if they were knockouts?....

Some strange episodes....A girl and her mother both applied for chorus jobs....The girl was eliminated first and for awhile it looked like mamma was in the running but at last she was weeded out because of a "non-rhythmic walk"... You know what that means as well as I do—and I don't know....The line filing slowly and self-consciously by the judges, the scarlet blushes or the don't care toss of the head and smirk as girls are removed from the line....and the kirds who sneak back into the procession, hoping to stick next time....But they inevitably meet the same fate.....

I ask the tabulator for a few statistics..Immediately I am struck by the fact that there is a New York type, a shadow tpye to be sure but identifiable.....The average New York girl, is not a blonde, she is a bit under average height and she does not, popular illustion to the contrary, chew gum.....Most of them have lived in New York a few years, few are braving a chorus call fresh from the midlands....Maybe it takes a couple of years to build up the courage for the ordeal..And for a sensitive young woman walking out there to be judged like a piece of livestock, it must be an ordeal....Yet many of them don't seem to mind....Around the corner lurk glamor, mystery money and MEN....And chance is worth while, any humiliation....Perhaps they are right.

Flames Damage Candy Factory At Pittsburgh

Report Loss Of $30,000 By Fire, Many Families Routed

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—Fire swept through a candy factory here early today, causing damage estimated at $30,000 and routing families from adjacent homes before firemen brought it under control.

The blaze, believed to have started on the second floor of the factory, was discovered by a street car motorman, who turned in the first alarm. Two additional alarms were put in before the flames were extinguished.

Four firemen narrowly escaped serious injury when a ladder on which they were stationed collapsed. Smoke and heat caused several nearby dwellings to be vacated, and two of the homes were damaged.

The Story Of Jeremiah

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Jer. 1:7—"To whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Oct. 13 is Jeremiah 1:1-10; 6:10, 11; 8:18; 26:1-24 and chapters 36, 37 and 38, the Golden Text being Jer. 1:7 "To whomsoever I shall send thee thou shalt go, and whatsoever I shall command thee thou shalt speak." The following summary of Jeremiah's message is quoted with the publisher's permission from "The Gist of the Bible Book by Book" by Dr. A. E. Bell, Toledo, Ohio.)

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

JEREMIAH WAS more than a prophet. He was a statesman, a patriot and a martyr. His was the sad ministry of accompanying a doomed nation to the death-chamber for its execution. He prophesied during the reigns of the last five kings of Judah, the good king Josiah and his three wicked sons and grand-son, Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin Zedekiah. For a half century Jeremiah ceased not to warn king and people alike, even with tears, of the doom and destruction which must come upon them for their persistent idolotry.

The Babylonian Captivity

Despite his warnings and the sad experience of the captivity of the northern kingdom of Israel in 721 B. C., the kings rushed on to a like fate and God raised up Nebuchadnezzar to destroy Jerusalem and carry the people away into captivity in Babylon for seventy years. This captivity, which Jeremiah prophesied so clearly and repeatedly, came in 586 B. C., for with nations as well as with individuals "the wages of sin is death".

The Weeping Prophet

Jeremiah is called "the weeping prophet" from the way he poured out his soul in tearful pleadings and bitter lamentations in his effort to avert the captivity and destruction of his beloved people. But his message to King Jehoiakim was cut into pieces and burned in the fire, a treatment of the Word of God not greatly different from that accorded it in some quarters today when it runs counter to the notions of the willful and self-opinionated. The prophet was charged with treason and with weakening the hands of the defenders of Jerusalem. He was imprisoned and thrown into a filthy pit. He would have died there had he not been rescued by his friends.

A Parable In Clay

The burden of his message is embodied in the vision given him in the house of the potter. There in the vessel of clay whirling on the wheel and marred in the hand of the potter, he saw the sad outcome of the Divine Potter's efforts to make of his nation a vessel of beauty and usefulness. "The vessel that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter; so he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it (18:4)."

This remarking of the marred vessel is the message of hope Jeremiah saw and preached through his tears. God would not utterly destroy his people, but would bring them back after the seventy years and "make it again another vessel".

Jeremiah's passionate love for his people and his desire for their salvation, his rejection by his own whom he came to save, and his tears over the impenitence of Jerusalem and its approaching destruction, remind use of the greatest of all Judah's prophets, Jesus of Nazareth, who "when He beheld the city wept over it" and said, "O Jerusalem. Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together even as a hen gathered her chickens under her wings, and ye would not."

With him will be delegates from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Scranton.

The national convention this year is important in that it will deal with the new carrier act passed by Congress this year. Under that act any trucker who participates in interstate traffic must file tariffs and come under the supervision of the inter-state commerce commission.

Inter-state traffic is taken to mean the carrying of freight over state borders or the completing of a shipment that originates out of the state. In other words a trucker lifting a shipment at a railroad station here and delivering it to a customer would be considered in inter-state traffic if the shipment originated outside the state.

A bird mother daily risks her life at Ballater, Irish Free State, in endeavoring to hatch out her eggs. The bird, a lapwing, scraped a cavity amongst the ballast between two ties, just under a rail on the line near the town. She is so accustomed to the passing of trains that she sits until the engineer is almost overhead, then makes a graceful sweep skyward to settle again immediately after the train is gone.

Motor Vehicles Bear Tax Burden

Pennsylvania Motorists Share Heavy Burden With Many In Other States

FLORIDA HAS HIGHEST TAX

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—The average motor vehicle bore a heavier average tax burden in Pennsylvania last year than all but nineteen of the states, according to a compilation by the American Association of State Highway officials.

Motor vehicles license fees and state gasoline tax collections in 1934 average $38.22 in Pennsylvania as against only $34.96 in the country as a whole. The per vehicle burden was greater in only 19 states than Pennsylvania. It ran as high as $65.52 in Florida and as low as $22.52 in Kansas. It averaged $35.71 in Ohio and $39.64 in West Virginia.

Motor vehicle license fees alone averaged $18.35 in Pennsylvania compared with $12.23 in the nation. The Keystone State ranked fifth of the states in this respect, only Connecticut, Vermont, New York and New Hampshire having greater per vehicle assessments. License fees averaged $12.38 per vehicle in Ohio and $10.24 in West Virginia.

State gasoline taxes alone averaged $19.88 per vehicle in Pennsylvania and $22.73 in the nation. This per vehicle average was greater in 36 states than Pennsylvania. It amounted to $23.32 in Ohio and $29.40 in West Virginia.

News Of Welsh Given By Johns

News Notes Of Interest To Local Welsh Residents

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS
Brython

The Welsh people of New Castle were saddened by the death of Mrs. John Lewis, who passed away at the Cleveland Welsh Home. The body was brought to Oak Park cemetery for burial, accompanied by her nephew, of New York City. Mrs. Lewis resided in New Castle for over 20 years and maintained a butcher store on Long avenue. She attended the Emmanuel Baptist church and was active as a Ladies Aid member.

A meeting of the Star of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Ivorites of America, took place last Saturday evening. David Harris, of East Washington street, was in charge, with Benjamin J. Fowler in the vice president's chair. A very favorable financial report was given by the secretary, Thomas D. Thomas.

Brython received a wonderful book last week from his boyhood friend, Alderman Edward Harris, the ex-mayor of Swansea, South Wales. He composed the book when he was mayor. In it are photos of the old castles at Swansea, the old town hall, the great Western station on High street, and other interesting spots familiar to Brython and many other local Welsh.

Emmanuel Baptist church had a splendid prayer and song service last Sunday evening. Scripture reading was given by Miss Morgan; prayer by Mrs. T. L. Jones; song by Mrs. Bame; recitation by Mrs. William Phillips; speech by Griffith Phillips; dismissal by Deacon Thomas L. Jones. Miss Anna Mae Jones was pianist.

Last Saturday Prof. Richard E. Johns, of Park avenue, saw another mile stone on life's journey. It was on Dillwyn street, Morriston, South Wales, that he first saw the light of day. At the age of 7 years he accompanied his mother and brother Sidney, to the United States. For five years he lived at Blairsville, Pa., then, in 1900, he moved to New Castle where he has been ever since. He was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad for over 20 years. At the present time he is director of music at the Highland U. P. church. He had a birthday cake for the anniversary, and received many letters and cards, and a telegram from his son, Sherwood, who is in Allentown, Pa.

Griffith Thomas, of Park avenue, will fill the pulpit of the Emmanuel Baptist church next Sunday evening. After the sermon a great sacred concert will be given with some of the leading stngers in New Castle taking part.

A crowd of local Welsh people attended the singing festival at Niles, Ohio, last Sunday. Rev. Rees T. Williams, of New Castle, was the chairman of the afternoon session.

Miss Ceinwen Johns, who has visited here, but whose home is in Wales, is still in the singing business there. She will give the soprano solo at the singing festival in Port Talbot, South Wales, her friends here will be glad to learn.

On Sunday, October 6, Deacon David T. Evans, of Garfield avenue, celebrated another birthday. He was born at a place called Llansamlet, South Wales, and came to this country 40 years ago, making his home in New Castle. Brython also learns that Deacon Llewellyn Thomas celebrated his birthday last Monday, October 7. He was born at Landore, Swansea Valley, leaving there for America nearly 50 years ago. He spent some time at Jersey City but has been in New Castle for over 35 years. His home is now on South Mercer street.

In the city you get rich by using one dollar to make another; in the country you do it by making a dollar and saving 98 cents of it.

Cavalry Head To Visit Troop

Col. Milton G. Baker Will Inspect Troop F. Here This Evening

IS FIRST VISIT OF NEW LEADER

Capt. George F. Mitchell, commander of Troop F., 103rd Cavalry, received word yesterday from Col. Milton G. Baker, the new commanding officer of the 103rd regiment, that he would pay a visit of inspection to the local guard unit this evening.

Col. Baker will be accompanied by Lieut. Col. Wolfe, squadron commander, and Capt. Edward Albert, the regimental adjutant, on his visit here.

The regimental officers are in Pittsburgh attending the Pennsylvania National Guard convention and will come here from Pittsburgh for the visit, returning later in the evening.

The honor is an unexpected one, and the troop is making every effort to display their proficiency on this occasion. Col. Baker was placed in command of the regiment only recently and this will be his first official visit to the troop.

Capt. Mitchell announced that the last polo match of the season will be played at the drill field in Scotland Lane, Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

PART-TIME WORK FOR COLLEGE MEN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH — In return for part-time work, unemployed college graduates are to be given the opportunity of taking a master's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

Funds for this purpose will be paid under a national youth administration grant of the university. The finance plan supplants the FERA aid program for students.

A somewhat similar program has been worked out for undergraduates also. Under the part-time employment plan, the students will be able to average about $15 a month, it was said.

BISQUE DOLL IS VALUABLE ANTIQUE

(International News Service)

WILKINSBURG, Pa.—A bisque doll, the image of lovely Princess Augusta Van Weimer, who became the wife of Emperor Wilhelm I of Germany, passed its 100th birthday in the possession of Mrs. Emma Teskey of Wilkinsburg.

The doll became the property of Mrs. Teskey's grandmother when she was a young girl in Frankfort-on-the-Mein. A year ago, Kaiser Wilhelm thanked Mrs. Teskey for the care she has given the heirloom.

Chums In Korea Are Now Roommates Here

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH—They used to be boyhood chums in a little Korean village. Today, by a trick of fate, they are roommates, studying for their life's work together at the University of Pittsburgh.

Long Woon Whong and Yu Kyung Lee played together in their small Asiatic town and dreamed of studying in the occident. Whong wanted to be a doctor, while Lee had the ambition to be a dentist. As they entered manhood, they went their separate ways to America.

Whong, now a junior in the Pitt medical school, took his preparatory college work at Mt. Union college, while Lee graduated from the Keigo Dental college.

It was with no little surprise that they discovered they were roommates, after separating years ago at the other end of the earth.

WANT MONEY GIVEN FOR FLOOD CONTROL

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa.—A request for a PWA grant of approximately $585,000 to aid in the construction of two flood control reservoirs has been forwarded to WPA officials by city council. Council also has authorized a referendum at the November election seeking approval of a $715,000 bond issue to furnish the city's 55 per cent share of the $1,300,000 project.

The reservoirs are to have a combined capacity of 45,000,000 gallons, a pumping station and pipe lines connecting with the present distributing system.

BID GOOD-BYE TO BLACK UPPER LIPS

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — Mustaches, it seems, are definitely out.

Freshmen at the University of Pennsylvania have learned all about the 1935 rules. Instead of the customary hazing, the plebes will be required to wear black ties, white socks, traditional "dink" freshmen caps, name button and use back doors.

In addition, many "frosh" learned to their sorrow they must be clean-shaven.

BUMPER CROPS OF OATS ARE HARVESTED

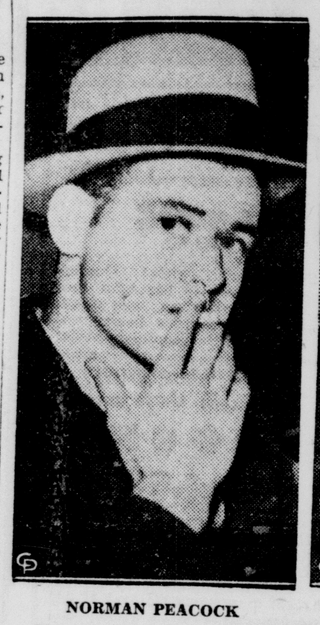

(International News Service)

CORRY, Pa.—One of the largest oats yields in recent years is being harvested in eastern Erie county, with favorable weather conditions aiding in the work.

On most farms in this area, a bumper crop is being reaped. The general yield has been estimated at two to three times that of last year.

Won't Let Girl Wed Slayer

NORMAN PEACOCK

HELEN BAKER

Pleas of 24-year-old, orphaned Helen Baker to be allowed to marry Norman Peacock, 22 before the state sends him to death in the electric chair, went for naught when Sheriff George A. Lutz of Cincinnati, O., where the youth was being held, refused to grant the girl the request. "I see no reason why the marriage should be permittd when there can be no benefit to either," the sheriff replied to the girl's please that "I'd do anything" for the sweetheart who is to be executed on Jan. 16. Hope of the girl to marry her childhood sweetheart at the Ohio penitentiary, where the youth was to be taken, were temporarily bashed when Warden James Woodward at Columbus indicated that Ohio would not have its first death-house wedding. Peacock was convicted of killing Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hockfield in a shoe store holdup.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is 51 Years Old Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11. — A birthday cake adorned with 21 candles today marked the occasion of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's 51st birthday anniversary.

The first lady, who is at the summer White House at Hyde Park, N. Y., will pass the day quietly without the customary family reunion.

Mrs. Roosevelt explained she always limited the number of candles on her cake to 21.

Grade Crossing Work Planned

Will Set Up $400,000,000 Highway Grade Crossing Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.— Six months after congress enacted the work-relief program to end direct relief by November 1, one of the major parts of the plan, the $400,000,000 highway--grade crossing elimination division, will be set up within the next few days.

Thus far only two states have received official approval on their highway-grade crossing projects—Alabama and Michigan. Today 32 more states have submitted parts of their grade crossing programs, and 33 have submitted substantial parts of their highway programs.

The bureau of public roads approves sectional programs for any part of a state's allocation of funds above 25 per cent of the state's total.

In the absence of Chief Thomas H. MacDonald, Raymond E. Toms, head of the division of design, declined to name what states had submitted programs, or what had been approved.

TEACHING WILD LIFE TO BE WILD IS HARD

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—Teaching wild life to be wild in Pennsylvania's state game preserves is a task requiring tact and perseverance, according to Ernest E. Harwood, executive secretary of the game commission.

Wild turkey and other game which once have been in touch with civilization, find it hard to forage for their own food, Harwood explained. They return again and again for the comparative luxury of feeding at human hands.

One method of discouraging this tendency, he said, is to scatter food a little farther from human habitation each day until the wild life recaptures normal hunting instincts.

Hauptmann Case Is Returned To Judge Trenchard

Trial Judge At Flemington, N. J., Will Fix Execution Date

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 11.—The case of Bruno Richard Hauptmann today was sent back to the court which originally sentenced him to death in the electric chair for the slaying of the Lindbergh baby.

Assistant Attorney General Joseph A. Lanigan filed with the secretary of state a remittitur in Hauptmann's case, officially transfering it back to Hunterdon county where Justice Thomas Trenchard will fix a new date for the execution of the former German machine gunner.

Filing of the remittitur virtually completed the state's procedure in the last stage of Hauptmann's battle to escape execution—a battle that was adversely decided when the Court of Errors and Appeals upheld his conviction and denied his appeal for another trial.

The document filed by Lanigan today must be held by the secretary of state for ten days. Then a certified copy of the record of the trial and judgment will be sent to the clerk of Hunterdon county. Following its receipt, Justice Trenchard will fix the new date for Hauptmann's walk over "the last mile" to the electric chair.

Return Home From State Conference

Doyle E. Glosner and G. Willard Lewis arrived home today from Harrisburg after attending a conference of unemployed groups with State Administrator Edward N. Jones.

BRICK MISSING ON OLD STREET

Vacated End Of Gardner Avenue Found Cleared Of Brick And Curbing

City officials today were wondering what happened to all of the brick and curbing on the west end of Gardner avenue, vacated by the city when Mahoning avenue viaduct was built.

They reported today that after being informed yesterday that someone was removing brick from the east end of the avenue, near the railroad crossing, they discovered that all of the west end brick and curbing was gone.

According to Glenn R. Throop's estimate, 25,000 brick which he would have liked to have used to build catchbasins is missing. When it was taken is unknown to either Streets Director B. F. Butler or Throop.

Butler believes that brick was taken years ago. Mayor C. B. Mayne said he believed that it had been used by a former administration, but the facts are, no one knows for sure, and the material is missing.

Greece Moves For Restoration Of Monarchy

Former King Expected To Return To Throne After Plebiscite

(International News Service)

ATHENS, Oct. 11.—Greece moved swiftly toward actual restoration of the monarchy today as the new royalist government headed by Field Marshal George Kondylis, who will be regent for the time being, reinstated the legal position of King George II and other members of the royal family.

At the same time, an official message was sent to the former king in England, advising him of the change in the regime.

From today, all official documents will be issued in the name of the king. Change in the national emblem will be effected at an official ceremony.

Airplanes felw over Crete dropping proclamations announcing the royalist government would ensure a genuine plebiscite, at which the public is expected to confirm the result of yesterday's coup D' etat.

State Repays Special Funds

Sum Of $10,537,000 Borrowed For Relief Is Paid Back At Harrisburg

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.— The state today repaid $10,537,000 of the money it borrowed from special funds for unemployment relief and social pensions, an amount sufficient to pay all overdue state payments to local governments.

In announcing the action, the governor's office said the payments would "permit many local governments to balance their budgets and in some cases avert threatened real estate tax increases."

Funds for the repayment were obtained through sale of the $50,000,000 tax anticipation note issue.

Of the total repayments in the following amounts were made: $3,600,000 to the liquid fuels tax fund which is split up among counties; $2,000,000 to the motor funds; $1,500,000 to the state school fund; $250,000 to the fire insurance tax fund which is divided among volunteer firemen's associations; and $3,127,000 to the liquor license fund which is split up among local governments.

The money paid the liquid fuels tax fund and the liquor license fund, the announcement said, is sufficient to permit immediate payments of all moneys due local governments. Most of the remainder of the states debt to the special funds is owed to the motor fund and will be repaid before the December 31 deadline for returning the borrowed money, the announcement said.

"Good Will" Flight Halted By Rain

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11—Waiting clearing weather conditions, the "Good Will" flight of Pennsylvania's civilian aerial entourage was temporarily halted here this afternoon.

Although several planes took off, all but two returned to the county airport. With a fine rain and heavy mist making flying difficult, the remainder of the pilots delayed their take off for the next stop—Meadville.

The two pilots believed to have continued on the journey were Neil McCray and Harrison Doyle, both of Erie.

After a brief stop in Meadville, the caravan was scheduled to resume the flight to Erie, where the group planned to spend the night.

New Castle Fund Request Presented

Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green and Directors W. W. Duff and Roy W. Hazen have returned from Harrisburg where they presented the request of the New Castle school board for financial assistance. Due to the failure of the past session of the legislature to pass remedial legislation the school district here has a $130,000 deficit this year.

The state has a fund of $3,000,000 to care for such emergencies and it is from this fund that the local district asks help. The request was filed and will be given attention later, it was stated to the local men.

Man violates his conscience very seldom. Usually he picks out the profitable way and then adjusts his conscience to it.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—Gov. George H. Earle is the possessor of one of the rarest gifts obtainable from the forests of Pennsylvania—a bag of chestnuts presented to the governor by secretary Thomas Buchanan of the department of forests and waters.

The chestnut tree, which was once the most abundant in the state, is now the scarcest due to the deadly chestnut blight imported into America from Europe about 30 years ago.

Coal Board Holds Reins

Will Not Permit Constitutionality Charge To Effect Enforcement

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—With the declaration they will not permit challenge of its constitutionality to hinder enforcement of the Guffey coal control act, the Guffey coal board today held an imperative hand over the bituminous fuel industry following start of its formal operations.

"We are going to administer the act, and we are going right ahead without thinking of the court battles," C. E. Smith, member of the board, said shortly after it assumed its overseeing duties in the soft coal field. The board, he added confidently, believes "98 per cent of the industry" will cooperate.

One of the first moves of the group was to mail formal acceptance blanks by which producers can signify their intention of complying with the new code, which Chairman C. E. Hosford, Jr., said was framed identical with the code provided in the Guffey act itself. He explained the code would thus be placed "on an entirely different legal basis than the old NRA codes that were held unconstitutional."

SHARP-SHOOTERS OF SAVAGE TRIBE HIT ITALIAN PLANE

and German members of a border commission.

Their habit is to kill any stranger but to inform the government only of such approved killings of those of Italians.

The word has now spread through the border country that it is not only safe to kill Italians, but actually profitable, because the government is bringing to Addis Ababa the messenger who brought the news of the feat, and the emperor intends to decorate him.

In addition to having no reports that Odowa or Adigrat were retaken, the government similarly is without word of reports Aksum was ever taken by the Italians.

The government believes there is severe fighting in Ogaden province, in the south, where Italians are advancing afoot, preceded by aerial bombardment. There has been no communication from either front for 24 hours, however.

Mass Desertions

London, Oct. 11.—A Central News dispatch from Rome today said Italians consider the Ethiopian war is "virtually ended owing to the mass desertions of Abyssinians."

Report Italians Captured

Paris, Oct. 11.—Ras Seyum, Ethiopian commander on the northern front, encircled the Italian positions at Adowa on the nights of October 9 and 10, capturing several Italian positions although suffering heavy losses, according to an Addis Ababa

It was reported Ras Seyum captured many prisoners, cannon, rifles, and munitions, and that 50 Eritreans deserted the Italian ranks to join the Ethiopians.

Ethiopian guerilla warriors were holding up the Italian advance in Ogaden province, it was reported.

Deny Adowa Recaptured

Rome, Oct. 11.—Official sources today denied emphatically a dispatch to London telling of the recapture of Adowa by an Abyssinian force.

The report was branded "fantastic."

Heavy Fighting

London Oct. 11.—The Ethiopian legation here told International News Service today that it had received a message from "an authoritative source" telling of heavy fighting at Adowa.

The legation said it heard that 2,000 Italians were wounded.

Reports Conflict

London, Oct. 11.—Conflicting sharply with a dispatch from Addis Ababa telling of a successful Abyssinian counter-attack on Adowa, Exchange Telegraph company's correspondent with the Italian forces in Eritrea radioed today that General Emilio De Bono, Italian commander, motored to Adowa this morning and officially occupied the town in the name of the Italian government.

Exchange said De Bono made his entry into Adowa in a military cavalcade, followed by 20 newspaper men in automobiles.

Daring Italian Flight

London, Oct. 11.—A daring and successful reconnaissance flight was made today by General Ronza, famous Italian World-war ace, when he took off from Maidaga airdrome and flew over the country south of Adowa and Adigrat, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from the Italian army front.

Gen. Ronza swooped low over Aksum, the dispatch said, and subjected the city to a scathing fire. Neither he nor his observer were hit, and they landed safely after securing photographs said to be of great military value.

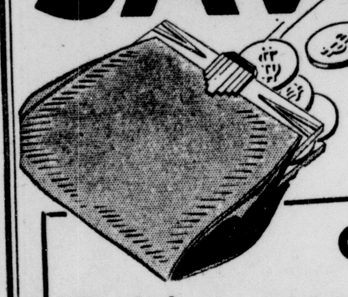

HORSE KILLED BY LIVERY MAN

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Oct. 11.—Old Jim Moore shot his last horse today, and the glory that was his in the stable business made way, finally, for the mechanical age.

Moore operated Jefferson county's last livery stable for nearly two score years. When he shot his last horse, because of the animal's advanced age, the only remaining memento of the "horse and buggy" days in the county was removed.

Ethel Barrymore Renounces Screen

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 11.—Motion pictures were renounced today by Ethel Barrymore, first lady of the American theatre and head of the "House of Barrymore."

Appearing here for the premiere in a road tour presentation of "The Constant Wife," Miss Barrymore was firm in her contention she will never return to the screen. The 55-year-old actress said:

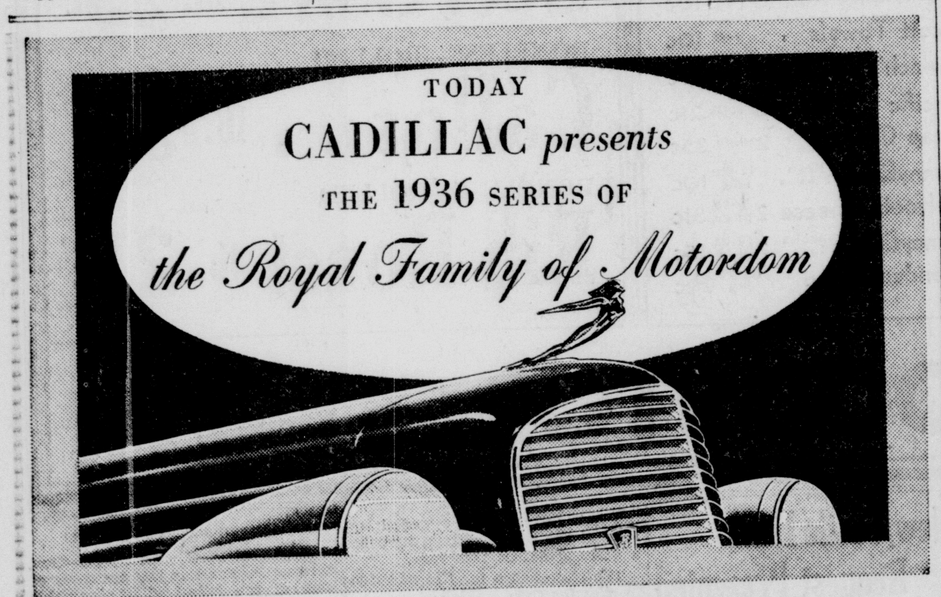

"I will have nothing more to do with the screen."

Her interests at present, she said, are centered on the National treatre movement. If the position was to be offered, Miss Barrymore admitted, she would gladly take the leadership in the movement.

IN THE LOWEST PRICE RANGE SINCE THE DAYS OF THE SINGLE-CYLINDER CADILLAC

Today, the 1936 series of the Royal Family of Motordom—a new La Salle, a new Cadillac, and a new Cadillac-Fleetwood—are on exhibition at our showrooms. Revealing the greatest strides ever made by Cadillac in performance, comfort, safety, beauty and roadability—they also offer the pleasant surprise of startlingly lower prices. In fact, prices start at the lowest point since the days of the single-cylinder Cadillac. You are cordially invited to see and inspect these magnificent new cars. They are certain to prove a revelation.

A FINER, FASTER AND SAFER La Salle $1175

La Salle again heads the style parade and sets the new vogue. And, within its price field, its leadership is just as decided in all other phases of motor car excellence. Its performance is delightful. Its comfort is simply superb. And it handles, in all ways, like the thoroughbred it is. There are four body styles—a Coupe; a Convertible Coupe; a Two-door Touring Sedan; and a Five Passenger Touring Sedan.

AN ENTIRELY NEW AND FINER Cadillac $1645

For years, there has been a growing demand for a personalized Cadillac—smaller, faster and easier to handle. The new Cadillac V-8, Series 60, is the answer to that demand. We state, without reservation, that no other car in America is so fascinating to drive. Its speed is whatever you desire. Its balance on the road is unsurpassed. And its general comfort is a constant delight.

ARCHITECT'S VISION IS NOW A REALITY

LEWISBURG, Pa. Oct. 11—An architect's vision of 45 years ago has been completed here with the addition of shrubbery to the landscaping of the Beaver Memorial Methodist Episcopal church.

Built with $1000,000 donated by Thomas Beaver, of Danville, in 1890 when he passed by the old church and saw ladies holding a supper to raise funds for the building, the edifice was intended to have been surrounded by plants which now have been transplanted.

Ask Council To Get Information

Electric Consumers League Committee Presents Request At Council Session

ASK FOR FIGURES ON PLANT COST

Howard Kirk, Jr., George Smith, Hartzel Houston and William Butler, representatives of the Electric Consumers league met with council in session at city hall this morning during which time Kirk submitted to council a letter from the league, signed by Secretary Donald Huffman, in which the league requested the council to obtain information from Burns & McDonnell, relative to a proposed electric distribution system here. The letter was ordered to committee of the whole by Councilman B. F. Butler. The motion was seconded by Councilman D. O. Davies. The motion was carried.

The letter said, in effect, that Solicitor R. M. White sometime ago told members of the league that he had a letter from Burns & McDonnell, whom the city paid $8,800, for a survey here, that the league would not need the survey as to the cost of a new distribution system and the cost of operating it before the vote on the bond issue question, as they were prepared to furnish all necessary figures. The people are entitled to the figures, according to the letter, and the league requested that they be furnished.

Course Of Action

The letter said that in case the bond issue carries and a certificate of public convenience is granted, two courses are open—first, the purchase or coridemnation of such equipment of the local power plant necessary for our use, and in that case, the profits commence as soon as it is taken over; second, or, they will not sell and a new system is built. The initial investment in that case would be the cost of a transformer station, plus the cost of street lighting system, plus the other necessary equipment to be ready to furnish service to consumers.

"We want from Burns & McDonnell, what this initial investment would be. It is planned that further investment is only made as customers are taken on.

"We request from Burns & McDonnell, based on their knowledge and what has been done in other cities, a statement as to about how long it would take the city distribution system to secure enough consumers to earn a profit.

"We also request a statement from Burns & McDonnell as to what the city should pay for wholesale current and a suggested schedule of rates for all classes of service with special emphasis on lowest power cost to industries."

Solicitor White, in response to Kirk and the letter replied that "we gave this information to city council and it appeared in the newspaper. He added that the engineers furnished everything except a light rate schedule and informed the delegates that they cannot do that.

Hoyland Against Plant

Previous to the introduction and reading of the letter councilmen condemned what they termed propaganda being published by the power company. They recalled a meeting with Messrs Blinn and Round of the company and alleged that Blinn said the city could write its own street lighting rate but no reduction could be had for commercial rate.

It was following this, according to Councilman D. O. Davies that "we decided to go into the light rate case."

After the reading of the letter and some discussion between White and Kirk in which White said that the league could get all the facts they wanted from as near as Ellwood City without chasing around the country, Councilman Albert Hoyland said to the committee:

"We have befogged the issue and lost prestige in the eyes of the Public Service commission by getting into a 'jam' about a plant before the light rate question has been decided."

Hoyland said that in his opinion the plant proposition has been a mistake and "I thought so all the time."

He explained later, that, he meant that the council should endeavor to secure the lowest possible electric light rate but that a municipal plant would be economically unsound. He declared that the council's primary case is a light rate reduction rather than a municipal distribution system.

WARDEN BALKS AT KILLING, QUITS

GERALD THOMPSON

WARDEN FRANK D. WHIPP

Because he has become unnerved at each of the five executions at which he has officiated, Warden Frank D. Whipp, of the Joliet-Statesville prisons in Illinois, has submitted his resignation, effective one minute prior to the next scheduled execution. One minute after midnight, on Oct. 14, Gerald Thompson, 25-year-old Peoria slayer of Mildred Hallmark, 19-year-old cafe hostess, is scheduled to go to the electric chair. Warden Whipp, a veteran penologist, asserts: "I don't believe the punishment should fit the crime. That isn't any longer considered penology. The aim is to turn out men in condition to have a chance to re-enter society. Some criminals, however, should be locked up for life."

Parliament To Be Called Early

Session At London To Convene On October 22 Is Announcement

By H. K. REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 11—The British Parliament will be summoned for October 22, one week earlier than had been scheduled, because of the gravity of the international situation and the importance of decisions being taken daily at Geneva.

This was announced at No. 10 Downing street, residence of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, today.

Provision for calling the Parliament earlier than the regular date of October 29 was made at last Wednesday's cabinet meeting. It was decided then Parliament would be summoned on the 22nd "in case events at Geneva necessitate it."

Parliament will be called into session early in order to pass any laws necessary to put Britain solidly behind application of sanctions against Italy. Experts doubt that much could be done under present laws.

In view of the present mood of both houses it was felt there would be little opposition to enforcing any measures needed to make League of Nations sanctions effective.

Governor Davey Attacks Paying Of Grid Players

Governor Of Ohio Ired By Shortage Of Funds At Ohio State

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 11.—Ired by stories of shortage of funds at Ohio State university, Gov. Martin L. Davey, who for weeks has been embroiled with school officials over executive budget slashes, today hurled another bitter challenge at the university, claiming that "football has become the supreme purpose of higher education."

"As far as football is concerned," remarked the governor, ironically, "we are all extremely interested in its success. We recognize the fact that football has become the supreme purpose of higher education."

Reviving the old spectre of state subsidy of athletes, the governor charged that Ohio's state government is maintaining many O. S. U. football players on the payroll.

"We certainly have done our part," he asserted, "because we have many of the football players on the state payroll."

Answering the statement that the university has only enough coal left for 10 days, Davey pointed out that $100,000 was provided for coal for 1935.

Man Had 168 Wives, Serves Term In Jail

Russian Married And Divorced 168 Wives, Modern King Solomon

By LINDESAY PARROTT,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Oct. 11.—Life has been just one wife after another for I. S. Lapkin but things are going to be different now.

Rivalling King Solomon as an all-time husband, Lapkin has been married and divorced 168 times. But he lacked the ancient king's wisdom and way with the women, and so today his past sneaked up on him.

He was sentenced to 10 years in prison, where he will have to get along without any more wives.

All-Time Record

The prisoner claimed to hold an all-time record as a husband, but the court ruled that was no cause for special consideration.

During the days of his exploits among the ladies, great lover Lapkin was an official of a steel construction works, where his activities caused a lot of Soviet eyebrow-raising and finally resulted in his downfall.

Authorities charged Lapkin not only with using his position to embezzle 7,000 roubles, but also with forcing female employees of the works to marry him. Those who rebuffed him, police said, were summarily dismissed.

It was his custom to divorce each bride a few days after the wedding, police claimed.

Body Of Man Is Taken From River Near Harrisburg

Search For One Other Man Believed Drowned When Canoe Upsets

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—The body of a man identified as L. Frank Gilbert, Harrisburg, believed to have drowned with another man when a rented canoe upset in the Susquehanna river last night, was recovered this afternoon.

Identification was established by a card in the man's pocket indicating he received medical attention through the relief board early this year.

Officials of the boats dock where two men rented a canoe last night for an "hour or two" on the river identified Gilbert as one of the men who had taken the canoe.

Spurred by the discovery of the body of one victim, police and river authorities redoubled their search for the other man believed to have been with Gilbert when the boat overturned.

WILL PARK PROVE WHITE ELEPHANT?

(International News Service)

LEBANON, Pa., Oct. 11.—Lebanon may have a public park, if the city and civic officials find a means of providing maintenance funds for a group of stately buildings and beautiful grounds to be donated by the descendants of George Coleman, pioneer builder of the North Lebanon iron furnaces.

The grounds are landscaped, being planted with trees imported from Europe and giant Boxwoods and other shrubbery, sunken gardens, stables and garages are also located on the estate.

Only one thing remains in the way of immediate acceptance, the problem of maintaining the property.

If most marriages are successful, why do most women feel sorry for the bride?

WARN FIELD FORCES

HARRISBURG.—Tampering with governors on automobiles, trucks and other motor driven equipment of the Department of Highways has brought a strict warning from Secretary Warren VanDyke. In orders issued to the field today, the Secretary points out that these governors are placed and adjusted by the manufacturers in order to prevent racing of motors and prolong the life of the equipment. Such tampering will not be tolerated, he says, although provision is made for necessary adjustments by district mechanics who will report all changes to the Central Office.

Halt Broadcast By Italian Baron

First Application Of Sanctions Halts Talk From Italy To U. S.

BRITAIN TAKES ACTION IN CASE

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The British foreign office itself, it was learned today, directed what is interpreted as the first actual sanction against Italy.

Last night, only a few hours after the league assembly had voted to apply sanctions against the Italian government, the foreign office intervened to prevent a broadcast from Geneva to the United States in which Baron Pompeo Aloisi, chief Italian delegate, was to explain the Italian case against Ethiopia.

The broadcast was to have gone to England and to have been relayed by the British Broadcasting Company, a part of the British Postal system. The foreign office denied use of the postal facilities for exposition of the Italian argument.

It was explained officially today that the government "in the present delicate situation" could not see its way clear to grant such facilities.

Geneva, Oct. 11.—Referring to the ban placed on the proposed radio broadcast to the United States by Baron Aloisi, of Italy, a British spokesman said today:

"It was felt that since Article XVI (the sanctions article of the league covenant) has now become operative, the postal falicities should not be granted to any Italian propaganda broadcast.

"In some respects this may be regarded as one of the first sanctions applied.'

NO INDICATIONS OF MAJOR BATTLE GIBBONS REPORTS

regulars, and are not sufficiently strong to counter-attack the Italian positions. But they will undoubtedly pursue guerilla tactics, sniping troops and interfering with Italian lines of communication.

The Italian intelligence section has located the next Ethiopian concentration in force on a line between Gondar, which is 150 miles southwest of Adowa, and Tagadde, which is eight miles south of Gondar, just above Lake Tstana.

Obviously, the belligerent forces are completely out of touch with one another, and I am glad also to report that I see no prospects of a major clash between them for at least a month.

The Italians are now busy consolidating the ground already gained., strengthening defenses, widening and building roads, digging wells to increase water supply, stringing wires, building permanent barracks, and excavating large, deep holes for supplies.

100,000 Italians Defend Positions

Approximately 100,000 Italians are defending their strongholds in the occupied areas.

Wild rumors and reports of Ethiopian counter-attacks and terrific massacres of Italians and unfounded, although many of these rumors could be quieted if an official casualty list were issued.

General Emilio De Bono, Italian high commissioner for Erithrea and commander of the troops on the northern front is soon coming to Adowa for official occupation ceremonies in this city that has now been taken back by the Italians in "avenging" their defeat here in 1896.

A huge celebration will accompany the ceremony.

The Italians marched a long way to get to Adowa, and there's not much to see after you get here.

The historic town is located in a green basin, spreading up the sides and over the top of two slight ridges, all covered with narrow lanes and winding street, low stone walls, corrals and native thatched huts.

There are only ten tin-roofed buildings in town.

Headquarters Established

General Pietro Marivignia, who was in charge of the advance column that entered town Sunday, has now established headquarters in the two-story red brick Italian consulate two miles from the edge of town, which is now surrounded by the pup tents of many battalions of infantry, mountain gun posts, machine guns, and detachments of Ascari warriors.

Reinforcements are pouring in every hour, ahorse and a foot, all night and all day, with long lines of plodding mules and donkeys bringing up lots of supplies, mostly shells and rifle ammunition.

Food supplies at present are low, with the occupying troops on emergency rations, but engineers are hurriedly pushing forward Roman roads over the old caravan routes.

Investigation at the palace of Ras Seyum, which is composed of eight-one-storied stone and mud-walled buildings, with tin roofs, guarded by a large stone-walled compound indicated a hurried departure of the occupants.

Wine bottles and pieces of European furniture found in the palace were identified by Italians as having been looted from the Italian consulate.

Tin Roofed Shed

The largest building in the compound, known as the tribunal, from which Ras Seyum dispensed justice, is nothing more than a large tin roofed shed with open sides and three encircling tiers of mud benches, on which members of the council squatted.

The throne room contained a well painting of the Lion of Judah (Emperor Haile Selassie) wearing a bartender's mustache like handle-bars used by six-day bike racers, and the only piece of furniture visible was an old busted sofa with its spring and stuffing coming out underneath —presumably the imperial throne.

The sofa looked like it had seen hard imperial service.

After the occupants Italians showed me a handful of cartridges bearing the date 1935 and the mark of a Belgian manufacturer, and also one machine gun, 1914 model, found in a position from which Ethiopian snipers had been driven.

The occupation was not without incident since although the town was virtually deserted Ethiopian troops in full view east of the town opened a heavy long-range rifle fire and some machine-gun fire on the advancing Italians.

A sharp exchange of rifle fire continued for an hour, with a few casualties.

Ethiopians In Mountains

Adowa, Ethiopia, Oct. 8.—(By Courier to Asmara, Eritrea, where cleared 3:00 p. m., Oct. 9.)...Ras Seyum, Ethiopian northern commander with forces numbering 2,000, is occupying impregnable mountains south of this place and threatens a counter-attack, but the Italian forces here are strongly entrenched with a far-reaching circle of outlying defense positions capable of taking care of any eventuality.

Reconnaissance planes are constantly over the area occupied by the Ethiopian forces, dropping small bombs, and under orders are flying close to the ground firing machineguns from the air whenever concentrations are sighted.

Ras Seyum is sending small sniping parties on both lines of Italian communications.

Several Italians were wounded in these raids, which guards repulsed with few casualties.

Request Italian Envoy To Speed His Departure

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, Oct. 11.—The Ethiopian government today requested Count Luigi Vinci-Gigliucci, Italian minister, to leave Addis Ababa tomorrow, and not wait, as he had wished, for the arrival of his consul from Mogale.

Count Vinci was given 48 hours to leave. His time expires tomorrow, when the train leaves for Djibouti, French Somaliland.

Count Vinci had expected to send the 16 members of his legation staff tomorrow, but to wait himself for a later train.

After receving a note from the foreign office stating he must get out immediately, Count Vinci telegraphed to Rome for instructions.

Some apprehension was felt here regarding possible consequences in the event Premier Mussolini should order his minister to defy the emperor.

Grand Jury Probe Of Actress' Death On November 12

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 11.—death of Evelyn Hoey, Broadway stage, screen and radio star, at the home of Henry Huddleston Rogers, III, will be investigated by the grand jury here on November 12, it was announced today.

Miss Hoey was killed by an apparently self-inflicted bullet that shattered her skull. She was found dead on a bedroom floor of Rogers' farm estate near Downingtown.

Rogers, who was released after a coroner's jury declared the actress met death at the hand of person or persons unknown, will be summoned to testify before the grand jurors. His friend, William J. Kelley, Union City, N. J., cameraman who was in the house with Rogers when the fatal shot was fired, also will testify.

Administration Gets Criticism

New York Area Hears Number Of Attacks Upon New Deal Program

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11—A drumfire of criticism against the administration resounded today from the New York area.

Herbert Hoover used the occasion of a dinner of his fellow-alumni of Stanford University to warn that the policies of the administration are a threat to the existence of the nation's great universities.

"Rapidly increasing public debt based on credit inflation together with devaluation of the dollar," said Mr. Hoover, "is creating a problem with which "every board of trustees is concerned."

The Union League Club, Republican citadel of New York, adopted a report saying "this club....renews its pledge 'to discountenance and rebuke...every attempt against the integrity of the nation,' and in particular the attempt now being made ....to undermine and overthrow the constitution."

Addressing the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Asbury Park, N. J. Ogden Mills, former secretary of the treasury, denounced planned and controlled economies and said, "the new deal is subsisting on the savings of the old order."

Frank Fay Denies Separation Report

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11.—Frank Fay, actor, today vigorously denied repeated reports that he and his talented actress wife, Barbara Stanwyck, have separated.

Miss Stanwyck is said to have admitted a separation yesterday, and is said to have declared she moved from the couple's home last August, taking with her her adopted son, Dion.

Questioned this morning at the home, Fay denied the separation report and said "we are still together under the same roof and the only reason Miss Stanwyck doesn't join me in this denial is that she is so upset over the whole business it would be asking too much to disturb her at this hour of the morning."

Gives Report On First Returns Of New Revenue

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—Secretary of Revenue Harry E. Kalodner today announced that emergency taxes levied by the 1935 legislature to balance the state's heavy budget had yielded $5,662,738 in the first four months of the fiscal year beginning June 1.

The announcement was the first which has been made of the receipts from the new taxes, several of which are shown to be bringing in less than budget estimates.

New Milk Order Will Be Issued

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—A new general milk control order "based upon evidence at recent hearings" was promised militantly alligned producers and dealers today by the State Milk Control Board.

Asserting that the milk policies of Gov. George H. Earle were "fully vindicated" at the rehearings on the board's controversial general order, the board announced a new official order will be issued in the "very near future."

Assassination is a poison herb planted and cultivated and harvested by arrogant power.

Educators End Capital Session

State Educators Return To Homes From Harrisburg Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 11.—Educators from all parts of the state returned home today with the pleas of three state officials not to permit politics to enter the public schools ringing in their ears.

Gov. George H. Earle, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti and Superintendent of Public Instruction Lester K. Ade all urged the delegates who attended the two-day educators' congress to keep the school system free of partisan politics. Margiotti said this could be done only by state payment of teachers' salaries.

Governor Speaks

The chief executive, after reviewing the fiscal difficulties of his administration, which he said prevented him from giving as much help as he wanted to give to schools, urged educators to support "liberalization of government."

Other speakers at the closing sessions urged the delegatesto keep the school administration "progressive" and in touch with the times.

State To Share Fairly In Fund

Only New York Is Granted Greater Quota Of WPA Fund In Tentative Schedule

RELIEF LOAD MAY CHANGE PLAN

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 11.—If tentative state quotas for WPA funds set by the Works Progress Administration are adhered to, Pennsylvania will receive a fair share of the WPA money.

Based upon present relief loads, the WPA has tentatively compiled state quotas. Pennsylvania's quota is placed at $123,700,000. Only one state is given a larger quota, New York with a figure of $170,650,000.

WPA officials, however, explain that changes in the relief load may bring revisions of state quotas either upward or downward.

Of the $123,700,000 limit tentatively set for the Keystone State, $57,572,225 has been approved by President Roosevelt. Of this amount, $38,817,156 has been approved by the Comptroller General who must pass on all Federal disbursements.

Frances Mellon Plans Marriage

Third Cousin Of Wealthy Banker Will Wed Chicago Day Watchman

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Andrew Mellon's third cousin, who is 47, will become the blushing bride of her 77-year-old suitor just as soon as a specially designed wedding ring is ready.

That will be about Saturday or Sunday, it was surmised today by Miss Frances Mellon, the bride-to-be.

The man of her choice is Haver Bonham, who has been a Surface Lines employe for 57 years. At present he is working as a day watchman.

In her modest South Side home Miss Mellon readily admitted her relationship to the multi-millionaire former secretary of the treasury, but shrugged off further family questions with a "what of it?" attitude.

No Honeymoon

There was no truth, she said, in the rumor that her fiance works at night and insisted on a day wedding so he wouldn't lose any time on the job.

Plans for the marriage, she added, are "very indefinite." It may be in the Immanuel Baptist church, then again, it may be somewhere else. It depends a good deal, she explained, on Haver.

When the couple appeared at the city hall for a marriage license they were asked about a honeymoon. Miss Mellon said nothing. Bonham said laughingly that they might take a street car ride back from the church.

Both Married Before

Both principals have tried marriage before. Mr. Bonham's wife died several years ago. There were no children.

Miss Mellon was twice married. Her first husband died. She divorced her second mate five years ago. A daughter by her first marriage, Mrs. Walter R. Cooper, 26, lives at South Bend, Ind.

Miss Mellon's paternal grandfather, James Mellon, of Nobel county, Ohio, is a first cousin to Andrew W. Mellon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL IS INVOLVED IN CASE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11—Finding a Sunday school as defendant before the bar might well be considered rare, but one Philadelphia institute has even that stopped.

Founded in 1881, the Deutsche Sonntag Schule Verein has been ordered by the state liquor control board to show cause why its liquor license should be renewed. Unless its arguments are favored by the board, the "Sunday School's" profitable beer and liquor business will be quashed.

The Verein, officials explained, was granted a state charter for "instruction of young children, regardless of creed, in German, singing and drawing." Janitor Al Richenberg said advertisement still are inserted in German newspapers thrice a year, but that no pupils ever respond. The rathskeller is under the Sunday school rooms.

No danger of dividing the wealth. Those who hope to get rich outnumber those who have given up.

STAMP NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BY JOHNRAE EARL, SEC. NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB.

An additional 25 million stamps depicting the new Boulder Dam have just been ordered printed. This new requisition will bring the number up to 75 million stamps. Sounds like an enormous amount but when you stop to figure the great number that are used daily in regular business it doesn't seem quite as large as before.

I was fortunate enough to receive a first day cover bearing one of these new stamps and I wish to say that the cover is a very striking one. In the left hand corner of the envelope is a picture, or rather the official photograph of the picture which is reproduced on the stamp. This shows an airplane view of the dam and the territory directly surrounding it. This picture is printed in purple to match that reproduced on the stamp itself. The postmark read: Boulder City, Nev., September 30, 9 a. m. This cover was mailed to me with the compliments of the L. W. McDanel Cover Service of Beaver Falls, Pa. Mr. McDanel is a great cover fan and supplies first day covers for all events to collectors. I was asked several days ago by a collector just where to secure these first-day covers, he stating that he had an exhibition of them at the New Castle fair grounds. For his information and anyone else who is interested in this phase of the hobby, I would recommend that you write to Mr. McDanel and give him your name and address and tell him that you are interested in covers, and I am sure that he will take care of you. His address is 1113 Third avenue, Beaver Falls, Pa.

The White Man's Grave.

French Guinea, one of the colonies of French West Africa, lies along a section of the African coast that for centuries has been called "the white man's grave". Low-lying shores, flooded river mouths, Stagnant swamps, dense jungles where the sun never penetrates, and above all the terrific heat that wilts all the resistance out of a man—these combine to make French Guinea a land of danger.

Yet white men have gone there, and in numbers, in the hope of making a fortune in the cocoanut oil or rubber which the land produces in abundance. Gold also is found, and the familiar English coin, the guinea, was so named because it was first minted from Guinea gold.

Every account of life in this land mentions the sapping effect of the heat on the bodies and minds of white men. A typical story tells of the French annexation in 1887 of a small group of uninhabited islands off the Guinea coast. The tri-color was run up with great ceremony; a garrison of four natives was established on the largest of the islands, and the French officials returned to the mainland exhausted by their unusual activity. Months passed before it was remembered that nothing had been done about the islands or the garrison! A boat put off at once to find the inevitable: that while the officials had been dozing in the heat the four Negro soldiers had starved to death and left their skeletons under the flag they guarded.

Omaha Pane Off Agency List

The pane of six stamps which were issued at Omaha, Neb., in compliment to the Trans-Mississippi Philatelic convention in October, 1934, has been removed from the agency list. This stamp was the one-cent National Park stamp and the souvenir pane was made up of six stamps and were left unperforated.

Speaking Of War.

"Postage Stamp Wars" have frequently been the subject of stamp stories. Thirty-seven years ago, Canada's famous and beautiful map stamp was the cause of another of these so-called wars, although in this case the enemy was not a government but the authorities of the Pan-American Exposition which took place at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901.

Canada's map stamp, with the parts of the British Empire shown in red, was inscribed "We hold a vaster empire than has been." On this stamp Canada was shown as a huge domain, occupying by far the greater part of the North American continent. This was due to the projection on which the map was shown, known as the Mercator's Projection. On a map based upon the globular shape of the earth, Canada would assume more natural proportions, larger than the United States, to be true, but not triple the size as the stamp would indicate.

Pressure to force the United States to issue a similar map stamp to "put Canada in its place" was not availing. United States postal authorities would not become a part of a postage stamp war, so it remained for the sponsors of the Pan-American Exposition to issue privately a stamp which admittedly was an answer to the Canadian map stamp.

On this stamp where Canada's read "Canada Postage" appeared "Pan-American". The outlines of the North and South American continents were virtually identical with the Canadian stamp, and were on the same projection. Where Canada's stamp bore the date "1898" was the year of the Exposition "1901". In color, however, the stamp was different, for where Canada had shown only that dominion in red, as far as North and South American continents were concerned. The new stamp was so arranged that it was showing graphically that after all, Canada was but a small part of the two continents.

Neither of these stamps in this "war" are common unused, and at present it is likely that more of the Canadian stamps are existent than its American counterpart.

Michigan Stamp.

It is understood that the designer for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing has completed a design for this stamp and it was submitted to the Historical societies in Michigan for approval. After this has been done the bureau will start making the plates for the stamp.

HERE'S NEW WAY TO FIGHT "CUT RATES"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—A new type of merry-go-round circled an independent gas dealer's station in Millvale until he waved the white flag and boosted his prices to the level of his competitors.

Thirty-five cars formed an endless chain through the pump lanes of the station, asking for free air and other services, barring the way to gasoline pumps, until the owner agreed to remove signs offering a rebate for cash transactions.

"Picketers" claim they will carry the same medicine to other western Pennsylvania dealers who cut prices.

LIQUOR STORE TO CLOSE SATURDAY

PLAN SPECIAL TO ERIE

Due to the fact that the Erie East football game which will be played on Friday, October 25 is a night game, the P. & L. E. railroad will run a special train providing 200 persons will plan to attend. This will cut down the possibility of accidents on the return trip which will, out of necessity, be made late at night.

PEP CHAPEL THURSDAY

On Thursday morning a pep meeting was held in the auditorium to arouse the school spirit in preparation for the New Castle-Washington game tonight. Principal Orth opened this meeting with a few introductory remarks, following which the assemblage was led by the cheer leaders in a number of cheers.

The main feature of this meeting was the presentation of the trophy cup which was awarded to New Castle at Johnstown, Pa., last Saturday. This presentation was made to co-captain Blackie Adamo.

Richard Gregor, president of the graduating class and Ed. Wilson, Jr., one of the managers were the speakers of the meeting. Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner also spoke and introduced Harry Toscano, co-captain who in turn introduced the squad to the school body.

Closing remarks were made by Professor Orth, and after which the cheer leaders led the student body in the New Castle sky rocket.

SYMPATHY IS EXPRESSED

A Junior B class meeting was called Tuesday to extend sympathy to the family of Eileen Waldorf. Eileen Waldorf, a member of the Junior B class, died early Tuesday morning from injuries sustained in an automobile accident enroute home from the Johnstown football game.

The officers of the class were authorized to send flowers to the Waldorf home as an expression of the class's sympathy.

JOHNSTOWN TROPHY ARRIVES

The coveted trophy which was won by the Red Hurricane at Johnstown, Pa., last Saturday in a 24-7 victory, arrived at the school on Thursday morning.

This is a sterling silver cup standing about one foot and a half from the table. It has a green base. The cup was held in Johnstown to be engraved and did not arrive until yesterday morning. It was presented to the team at the pep meeting held during the third period yesterday.

The inscription on this cup reads: "Tribune Cup, Awarded for Victory of New Castle, at Johnstown on October 5, at Point Stadium." It does not, however, carry the score of the game. This cup will be placed in the trophy case along with the other awards won in the past.

HI-Y HAS TOURNAMENT

Monday night was Tournament Night for the members of the Hi-Y. After the short business session, various contests were held in pool, billiards, and ping-pong. Prizes were awarded to the winners: Bill Theis, Red Anscilla and Stanley Witherspoon. The meeting adjourned immediately after the Friendship Circle.

Any Junior or Senior interested in joining the Hi-Y should see Bill Theis, chairman of the membership committee, as soon as possible. Sophomores are not eligible for membership this year.

It is necessary that you act at once as only four vacancies exist at the present time.

The nominating committee of the Senior B class, composed of representatives from each of the Senior L session rooms, met in Miss Parker's room Wednesday morning. The purpose of this meeting was to name nominees for the various class officers. Thursday morning the Senior B class held an election of class officers. The new officers for the year are:

NOTES FROM LIBRARY

Practically all the ordered new books have arrived in the library.

All of the departments of the school are well represented by books which are on the shelves of the library.

The largest number is for the English department, because book reports are part of the required work. The History department is a close second due to the fact that much reference work is required in history.

A number of new books of plays, some books on animals, insects, trees, which will undoubtedly be of much interest to the science department, as well as several books of chemistry. Books for boys, including Famous Athletes of Today, Backfield, Comet, Beau Geste and Beau Sabreur.

Many attractive books for girls were noticed, including: Jobs for Girls, Any Girl Can be Good Looking Skin Deep, She Strives to Conquer as well as many romantic stories such as Early Candlelight, The Charming Sally, A Bend in the Road, etc.

SENATUS ROMANUS MEETS

The Senatus Romanus held its regular meeting last Friday morning in the cafeteria.

The meeting was exceptionally well attended and the business of the new semester was fairly well started.

Consul Primus Donald Lusk presided over the meeting.

A committee of three was elected as a delegation to interview Mr. Orth in regard to having a fixed date set on the calendar for the meetings of this group. This committee consisted of: Sally Norris, Margaret Louise McCracken and Donald Lusk.

The meeting was then adjourned pending an investigation concerning the time and place of future meetings.

HUNGERFORD LECTURE ATTENDED

At the invitation of the Women's Club of New Castle a group of advanced art students of the High School enjoyed very much the lecture which Cy Hungerford gave in the Highland U. P. church on Monday afternoon of this week.

This proved to be a real treat for the art students and stimulated quite an extensive interest in cartooning.

PAPER SQUAD ORGANIZED

This year a new squad has been formed for the sole purpose of seeing that the desks of all of the study halls are kept clean. This squad makes their daily inspections of all desks in the four study halls and report any liter of paper to their supervisor who makes an endeavor to locate the person who was responsible for the paper in the desk.

A meeting of this group was held recently and the following officers were elected: Bill Broad, president, and acting as his lieutenants are Dale Grove and Lloyd Bowden. Miss Velma Pratt was elected to the post of secretary of this squad.

The instructors who are acting as supervisors for the group include Mr. Lingerman, Mr. McKenzie and Mr. Mills.

Results of this group have been noticed already in different study halls about the building. In previous semesters the desks would be packed to capacity with paper.

HARRISBURG MAN HERE

From the office of Mr. Orth comes the report that William E. Brunton, department of instruction, Harrisburg, Pa., was a caller at the school recently.

Mr. Brunton is the head of the vocational work for the State of Pennsylvania, and it is his duty to visit the various schools and inspect their respective vocational departments.

HOME ECONOMIC LUNCHEON

The girls of the Domestic Science department, under the supervision of their able director, Mrs. Healy, gave a luncheon Tuesday, October 8 for a group of teachers.

Anna Cubbal and Mary Irene McConaghy, hostess and assistant hostess, had read and white as the predominating color scheme of the prettily appointed table. This luncheon marked the beginning of a one-dish meal project, which has been undertaken by this department.

A very delicious meal was served and it was greatly enjoyed by the participants.

USE MOVABLE HIVES

HARRISBURG—Over 90 per cent. of the apiaries in Pennsylvania are now housed in movable frame hives, records in the State bureau of plant industry indicate.

Since the enactment of the State bee law in 1921, apiary inspectors have been assisting beekeepers in meeting provisions of the law relative to the proper housing of bees so that transmissable diseases may be effectively controlled.

Makes Record Hop Through Accident

Spectators Held Their Breath While Jumper Is In Air

(International News Service)

WARSAW—The world's record high jump has been made here—unintentionally—by Captain Czech, of the Polish Baloon Corps.

In company with several other officers, he was practicing for a demonstration of "jumping flights" to be given on September 15 in conjunction with the start of the Gordon Bennett race.

But while he was holding on to his balloon a current of air swept him up into the air at a considerable speed, and while the spectators on the ground watched with bated breath, he continued his "jump."

In a few minutes the balloon had risen to a height of over 2,00 feet, and was still rising—with Captain Cech attached.

When it reached a height of nearly 3,200 feet it began to fall, and finally came to earth again about 300 yards from the starting point, landing its passenger safe and sound.

NEW CASTLE-WASHINGTON TO PLAY TONIGHT

SCHOOLBOYS WILL BATTLE FOR FIRST PLACE IN LEAGUE

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Faces Severest Test Of Year

Preliminary Game Starts At 7 P. M., Expect Biggest Crowd Of Year

SUPREMACY of the Class AA football conference will be at stake tonight under the floodlights of Taggart Stadium when the New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" undefeated eleven races out of the field house to battle the undefeated Washington High School grid machine. Two highly trained and anxious schoolboy teams will face each other over the chalked surface of the spacious grass arena. The kickoff at 8 o'clock should find the biggest crowd of the year on hand. The preliminary game starts at 7 o'clock. The gates will open at 6:30 p. m.

The New Castle Junior Varsity will tangle with the Ben Franklin Junior High eleven in the preliminary battle. This will be the first venture the Klee coached machine and members will be highly excited. The warm-up game should be a good one.

Play For Trophy

At the conclusion of the preliminary game the two teams that will draw the fans to the field New Castle High and Washington will race out on the greensward and get ready to start their engagement. By the time the big game gets under way the stands will no doubt be crowded to capacity.

Not only supremacy of the Class AA is at stake, but also the beautiful trophy cup that has been donated to the winner of the game by L. B. Mather, of this city, who at one time attended Washington High school.

In event of good weather a large delegation of Washington High students and fans will accompany the "Little Presidents" to New Castle. Many believe that this a "Washington Year". Meaning that Washington High has hankered for a victory over the big New Castle "Hurricane" for a good many years now.

Well Scouted

Coach William "Bill" Cox after scouting New Castle for the first four games believes that he has a system worked out to stop Engs, Donegan and company. Cox will present for the approval of the fans his star performer Zadworney, the young man who is making grid history at Washington High, having scored three times against Braddock High.

The scouting activities of Mister Cox may go for naught tonight, however as Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has switched many of his trick plays and no doubt the Washingtons will face plenty of foolers. With six different forward passing combinations at his disposal, genial Phil is liable to use any one.

Tough Opposition

New Castle High to be sure has waded through a lot of tough opposition so far, in Braddock, Butler, Warren and Johnstown and the goal line has only been crossed once. But, the battle tonight looms as one of the best of the year. Washington always has a crackerjack eleven and this year is no exception.

The Red Hurricane" will have to play heads-up football tonight to take the victory. Zadworney will be a marked man in the lineup of the visitors, and will wear jersey number 34.

Engs-Donegan Ready

Robert "Flash" Engs and Eddie Donegan the two midget halfbacks have improved a lot this week and will give the invaders a lot of trouble. So will Domenick "Shiek" DeCaprio and Leroy Cox, if Bridenbaugh sees fit to use him. Dal Mumford will again do the punting and can be counted upon to boot them far, wide and handsome.

Bridenbaugh will probably use Albert Krezo at end in place of the injured Nocera, and the right guard job will probably go to Scarazzo again, with Louie Leonard trying hard to break into the starting lineup, with his 190 pounds.

The Washington High team is a veteran one, the "Little Presidents" only lost two men out of that great team that held the locals to a 9 to 6 score last year.

Bands Will Play

New Castle High band of 80 pieces and the Washington High band of 75 pieces will join together tonight in lending a lot of snappy colorful tunes to the occasion. The bands form a big feature at every game.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has been scanning the skies for the past two days. "In event of fine weather, we should have the biggest crowd of the year", was the way Gardner put it.

Arrangements have been made for handling the crowd in shipshape fashion. The first contingent of Washington fans will probably reach New Castle about the time you reach for your desert, at the supper table.

In event that it should rain too hard, the game will be played either Saturday afternoon or Saturday night, according to Ralph H. Gardner, the man of the hour at Senior High.

Terry Seeking Adolph Camilli

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Manager Bill Terry of the New York Giants was ready today to dicker with the Phillies for Adolph Camilli.

Seeking a successor for himself at first base, Terry declared here last night that the deal for Jim Collins of the Cardinals is off.

Manager Bill said he had turned down Branch Rickey's offer of Collins for Mel Ott and Carl Hubbell.

Wisconsin Plays Notre DameTeam Spears On "Spot"

Victory For Ailing Badgers Tomorrow Over Irish Would Injure Job

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Old Doc Spears shook his head over his ailing patient today, and viewed with alarm an approaching relapse.

Stadium-side bullets were depressing, but the Old Doc labored on to prepare for the fast approaching crisis.

Years of experience, though he has never had as critical a case, have given him an impressive bedside manner and there is never a hint in his jolly mien that, begging a miracle, his patient will probably expire tomorrow.

For tomorrow his sickly patient, the University of Wisconsin football team, will be exposed to the bacilli of a fighting Irish epidemic from Notre Dame.

Doc's patient has already suffered two relapses, from South Dakota State and Marquette. And tomorrow may be the fatal day. Rumors of a general walkout, of Spears being summarily dismissed, of his resigning, of discontent in the sick bay, have not helped the Badgers' morale. And only a miracle can give them a chance against Notre Dame tomorrow.

TITANS PREPARE TO CELEBRATE

Rooters Expect Chance To Enthuse At Game With Waynesburg

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 11.—Plans are being made at Westminster to give every alumni, student, and visitor at the Waynesburg-Westminster football game, Saturday, a massive balloon, filled with gas, to be let loose at the first Titan touchdown.

Noise, color, and gayiety will mark this year's Homecoming at New Wilmington, with a red-fire pep parade and bon-fire cheer-meeting scheduled for Friday night; and balloons, rockets, banners, and noise for between-halves of the game.

A freshman cheering squad will be introduced for the first time, in an attempt to secure concentrated and better organized cheers. This year, for the first time, Westminster cheer leaders are being awarded sweaters in token of their services.

Saturday morning will be a busy scene in the science laboratories when 2,000 balloons will have to be inflated with gas to give them lightness to soar when turned loose. Although classes will hold for the first 3 periods, after 10 o'clock all books and seriousness will be laid aside.

College Grid Teams Facing Worthy Foes

Fordham Meets Purdue In New York, Minnesota Plays Nebraska

YALE-PENN WILL TANGLE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—With what was maliciously referred to as a very full attendance, the weekly meeting of the Fumblefinger A. C. settled down to its work this morning in a serious way for the first time this year. The Fumblefinger A. C. is the sterling organization that is composed exclusively of football experts and, in this connection, it is an outrage to commit the bromise about an expert being one who sees all, hears all and knows nothing. Sometimes, as a matter of fact, he never even suspects.

Anyway, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and it was voted to have them set to music, something suited to the oboe, it being understood that generally an oboe is very easily suited. The rest of the meeting was held in the police station.

Fordham Vs. Purdue.

Before this happened, it was unanimously voted that tomorrow's schedule formed what it called a very rigid test, owing to a profusion of intersectional games. These are not necessarily the best of the day, merely the toughest to call and sometimes the least interesting to watch. In case anyone will grieve if they don't know right away, I shall be watching Fordham versus Purdue at the Polo grounds. After thinking very deeply, I also have decided that Fordham will win this time.

In the same way, I have been able to reach a firm and unalterable decision on Colgate against Iowa at Iowa City; on Southern California against Illinois at Los Angeles; on Louisiana State against Manhattan here; on Southern Methodist against Washington of St. Louis, and on Colorado against Missouri, although the latter, having won its first two games, is probably not responsible for its actions right now.

Nebraska-Minnesota.

Harder to guess and easier to see will be Minnesota, the 1934 wonder team, versus Nebraska. It's to be at Lincoln and I like Nebraska.

Stanford, the 1934 blunder team at the Rose Bowl, is picking up a live one in U. C. L. A. in one conference game. In another, California is to meet Oregon. Stanford and California figure, but the going ought to be rugged.

Alabama, the 1934 thunder team, has not been too impressive but I take it over Mississippi State, the Major Ralph Sasse production. Notre Dame ought to be 30 points better than disorganized Wisconsin and, by this time, Ohio State should be really ready to go see the folks in town against Drake. Indiana, which is supposed to be pretty good, can't seem to go wrong against Michigan, which is supposed to be downright bad.

Yale and Penn.

There is no real line on Pennsylvania versus Yale. All right, then, I'll take Pennsylvania and, just for that, I suppose Yale will, too. The Harlow system can't be set at Harvard yet and, anyhow, Holy Cross looks too good. I like Carnegie Tech over New York university and Auburn against Tennessee. Also, a flier on Kentucky over Georgia Tech.

Princeton naturally figures over William and Pitt over West Virginia.

SPORTS PULSE · PENNSYLVANIA

By VIC JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—Races for top honors in Pennsylvania's high school football leagues grow more tense with each passing moment....Present leaders will find themselves pitted over the weekend against powerful opponents bent on usurping their laurels....Pace-setting Brookville meets a determined DuBois clan in that section's first "natural" of the season while Erie strong Vincent Hi, Erie city champions last year, will try to stop the fast moving Red and Black cleaters at Bradford Hi tonight.

Coach Frock's Lebanon Valley squad is having one of its best years in history and is a popular choice to beat Muhlenberg in their 20th annual game at Allentown under the Mazdas tonight....Return of Rhoades and Sheesley, who were out with injuries during Valley's close struggle with Penn State, to the lineup boosts their chances that much more.

Perhaps this wil help the analysts fathom the value of Claude Passeau, pitching recruit bought by the Pittsburgh Pirates....The gangling chucker was voted the most valuable pitcher in the western league in a poll held by a midwestern sporting publication.

A star on that Perkiomen school eleven at Pennsburg is Jack Bohrman, former backfield ace at Harrisburg's John Harris Hi....Co-captain Dave Furer's brilliant scholastic career will close after he leads his Har-Brack mates into tonight's fray with Kittanning....Dave will be 20 years old next Monday and, consequently, ineligible for further competition.

Oddities——A father-and-son team, composed of Philadelphia's Zeke Meyers and his son, Chet, will race in the 100-mile national championship at Langhorne speedway Sunday——Dunbar Hi is playing all its nine games abroad because it has no home gridiron.

Union-Bessemer Playing Today

Union and Bessemer high football teams are playing their annual football game this afternon at the Union high field. The kickoff occurred at 2:30 o'clock. It was Home-Coming Day for Union and the stands were packed with old grads.

Westminster Will Meet Waynesburg At Homecoming

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct 11.—An overflow crowd of alumni is expected to return to Westminster on Homecoming Day, Saturday, October 12, when Coach Frank Wolf brings his Yellow Jackets to test their strength on Coach Gilbane's Titan eleven.

The Waynesburg team is a dangerous threat at any time, and although light, the Wolf aggregation has experience, speed and football skill. The Titan line will outweight their opponents 12 pounds to a man, the Westminster line averaging 180 pounds and Waynesburg 168. In the backfield, the Titans have an edge of three pounds per man.

Coach Wolf, Waynesburg coach since 1928, uses a "Krazy Kwilt" system of football play, which unites the features of various standard systems to fit his own available material. The Titans, coached by former All-American Tom Gilbane of Brown and Albart Di Meolo of Pittsburg, have had to resort to the development of a highly deceptive game for his backfield material using only occasional line plays.

In the Waynesburg backfield will be Koepke at quarter, a sophomore, who runs, kicks, passes and calls signals with equal precision; at halfs, Surdock, senior, and Worden, sophomore, known as the "Ohio Hurricane"; and at full, McCombs, former Massanutten Military Academy star.

At the ends, Waynesburg will have Parker, one of the Jackets' best ends in years, and Wasko, six feet two inches tall at tackles, McCune, star linesman, and Cummins at guard positions, Tornabene, varsity wrestler, and Jones 178 pound tensecond man and at center, Avery, former Youngstown high school star.

For the Titans, the backfield will be composed of Arrowsmit at quarter, Bailey and Laraway at the wing positions, and Clark at full, all of whom are seniors except Bailey. Arrowsmit is a heady quarterback, cool, fast, and quickwitted, with a good throwing arm for passes; Laraway and Bailey are fast and with good interference can always make gains into the opposition's secondary defense. Bailey proved an excellent pass-snagger at the Mt. Union game last week. Clark at full has weight, a good pair of driving legs, and plenty of power when under way.

At the ends, Austen and Brooks, both tall and fast, are excellent on defense and both are dangerous men on the receiving end of passes. Richrad Watt, captain during the Mt. Union game, playing his last year on the Titan squad, will be paired with Tubby Harder, 250 pound Etna junior, a dangerous threat in any line. The guard positions are still doubtful, with Krulatz, Butler, Kirby and Brethal all fighting for berths. Krulatz, 180 pound and a hard fighter, will no doubt start at left guard. At center, Jones, light but a tough linesman, will toss passes to the backfield.

The game will be called at 2 o'clock. The officials for the game will be W. C. Evans, North Braddock, president of the W. P. I. A. L., will be referee; Yans Wallace, Wilkinsburg, umpire; and J. C. Rugh, New Castle, head-linesman.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Robert Madden of Pitt, won the seventh annual Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate tennis tournament Thursday at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., by defeating Samsay Potts of North Carolina, 1-6, 8-6, 6-4. Madden was behind at the start but rallied and the southerner wilted under his attack.

Lulu W won the 2:17 trot, Lucius I took the 2:26 pace and Julia Hall captured the 2:19 pace at Waynesburg fair races yesterday.

Bill Delancey, St. Louis Cardinal catcher, underwent a minor operation at a Danville, Ill., hospital, Thursday.

..avy defeated Virginia U. in football, 26 to 7, last night.

Paul Runyan Leads Tourney

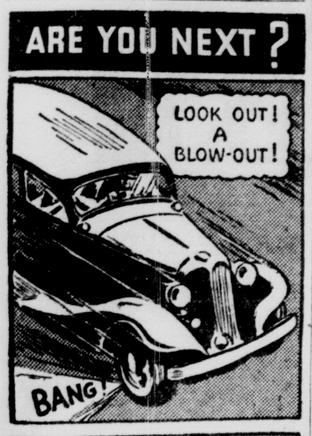

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 11.—Cupping a 160-yard approach on the 16th hole for an eagle 2, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., led the field in the $5000 Louisville Open Golf tournament here today with a 67, four under par.

Vic Ghezzie of Deal, N. J., combined rounds of 33 and 35 for a 68 and second place. Trailing him by one stroke were Terl Johnson of Winter Haven, Fla. and Al Zimmerman of Portland, Ore.

THIS TIRE MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE

Golden Ply prevents great cause of blow-outs!

To prevent blow-out tragedies, Goodrich has built into every new Silvertown Tire the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists terrific heat—inside the tire—where blow-outs really start. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus, heat blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by overcoming their great, unseen cause.

Tires last months longer

Racing daredevils tested the Golden Ply at breakneck speeds. Gave it everything they had. Not one blow-out. Similar tires without this feature failed at one-third the distance the Golden Ply Silvertowns were run. And what's more the Golden Ply Silvertowns kept right on eating up the miles.

No Extra Cost

You can put this blow-out protection on your car at no extra cost, for Goodrich Safety Silvertowns cost not a penny more than other standard tires. Come in today!

Six Villanova Students Hurt In Auto Crash

Two Of Those Injured Are Members Of Villanova Football Team

(International News Service)

ARDMORE, Oct. 11.—Six Villanova college students, including two players and the manager of the varsity football team, were injured seriously early today when their automobile collided with a pole on Haverford road, near here.

Rushed to Bryn Mawr hospital suffering from serious fractures, the youths were unable to give a coherent account of the accident, but police expressed belief the crash occurred when John Rosey, 21, of Norristown, driver of the car, lost control of the machine.

In addition to Rosey, who received a possible broken right leg, other members of the party, returning from a pleasure ride in the neighborhood, were:

Tony Sala, 21, of Donora, Pa., left end on the football team and intercollegiate boxing champion, minor cuts and bruises and possible other injuries; William Christopher, 20, Lawrence, Mass., quarterback, possible fracture of right leg; Edward Donovan, 22, Cambridge, Mass., possible fracture of the right leg; David Scanlon, 21, Atlantic City, N. J., and John Burke, 21, Lawrence, Mass., possible concussion.

Carnegie Tech To Play In New York

(Special To The News)

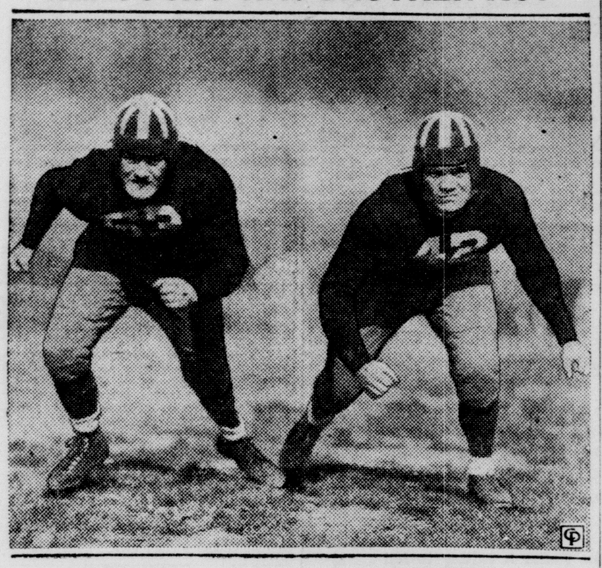

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 11.—Despite their heavy battering at the hands of Notre Dame last Saturday, there was no rest this week for the Carnegie Tech gridders. They have a date with their old jinx opponent, New York University, at the Yankee Stadium next Saturday, and they realize it will take more than memories of the great fight they put up against the Irish to stop the Violet-clad warriors of Dr. Mal Stevens. The former Yale coach evidently has begun to produce results at New York, if the result of his first game, with Bates, is a criterion.

Carnegie's coaches are now genuinely worried over the condition of little Steve Terebus, co-captain and halfback, and the sparkplug of the Plaid Offense. Terebus has not played a minute of varsity ball this year, having been cut down in a training camp scrimmage more than a month ago. Matelan, the sophomore, and Charley Spisak, ex-quarterback, have filled in very well for him, but neither is a Terebus. It was at New York several years ago that Terebus turned in one of his greatest games, and it was hoped that he would be able to make his season's debut there this year.

The next war will be shorter. With machines doing everything, it won't take so much time to wind up putties.

There's no equality. If the bride's parents weep, that's natural love. If the groom's parents weep, it's an insult.

KENTUCKY HAS BROTHER ACT

Sam Potter Lexie Potter

University of Kentucky has a "Me and Paul" combination in the line this year, with Sam Potter at right guard and his brother Lexie at left guard. Sam, a senior, was highest scoring halfback in the nation when he played with the Whitesburg, Ky., high school team, and his brother blocked for him.

COLLEGE GRID NOTES IN BRIEF

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—With advance ticket sales indicating a near-capacity crowd of 40,000 for the Fordham-Purdue intersectional tilt here tomorrow, Coach Jim Crowley completed his final pre-game plans for his Rams today. Crowley was well pleased today with the squad's mystery of new pass formations.

New York, Oct. 11.—Striking out into big-time college football this year, Manhattan's Jaspers wound up their training today for the game with Louisiana State university's Tigers tomorrow. The Tiger squad arrived last night and will engage in a final light workout today. Underdogs going into the game, Manhattan's footballers have come thru the week in top shape, and have polished off an aerial attack with which they hope to upset the southerners.

New York, Oct. 11.—Renewing their football rivalry with Rutgers university tomorrow, the Columbia Lions concluded their heavy practice today. Throughout the week, Coach Lou Little has stressed smooth cooperation in the squad's blocking assignments, and yesterday's workout found the boys clicking in that department.

New York, Oct. 11.—New York university's varsity football squad finished its week of training for the Carnegie Tech game tomorrow without having engaged in a single session of contact work. The Violet will put a team at full strength on the field against the Plaid.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11.—Meeting the Duquesne university football team under the floodlights tonight, the Catholic university gridders came from Washington as a three to one favorite over the Bluffites. Off to a bad start this year, the Dukes were determined they would not lose their third straight decision, something which has not been in the Dukes' history book since 1927.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11.—With Eddie Quarantillo, star end, gone, and several usual starters on the injury list, Coach Jock Sutherland today awaited the arrival of the highly touted Mountaineers from West Virginia with a great deal of concern. Sutherland will probably start a group of inexperienced sophomores; he has been unable to start the same team twice since the season started.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11.—Winding up with light drills, the Carnegie Tech pig skin toters will entrain for New York tonight to meet New York university. Following a decided letdown after the trouncing suffered at the hands of Notre Dame last week, the Skibos had a noticeable snap today and their final practice indicated a decided improvement.

Beaver Falls, Oct. 11.—The Geneva college gridders wound up with their final practice today confident they would win their third straight victory at the expense of the Bethany Bisons under the floodlights tomorrow night. Coach Dyke Beede will probably start the same lineup which did such a thorough job with Indiana and Slippery Rock Teachers.

A soft answer turneth away wrath. In these radical times, that is also true of a soft snap.

The Ethiopians have one great advantage. They won't have to get used to cooties.

Strength In Market Today Centers In Motors And Building Shares

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—An accumulation of overnight buying orders sent the stock market higher today and the ticker fell several minutes behind shortly after the opening.

The early strength centering in the motors, building and chemical shares brought gains running to more than a point and a number of new 1935 highs were registered.

Chrysler was an outstanding strong spot opening almost a point higher on a block of 6,000 shares. General Motors opened at a new high for the year.

Allied Chemical and Union Carbide were outstanding in the chemicals with gains of a point each.

Consolidated Gas and the other utilities after opening higher, were unable to make any further headway.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem were taken for fractional gains at the opening.

Rails were firmer under the lead of N. Y. Central but were held back by the heaviness in Union Pacific which ruled lower.

Council Plans Street And Sewer Work In Ellwood

WPA Work Projects In City Discussed By Council At Regular Meeting

FEW PETITIONS ARE ACCEPTED THURSDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 11.—Petitions from property owners in various parts of the city in regard to sewer and street improvements as WPA projects were accepted by the Borough Council at its regular monthly meeting in the city building on Sixth street.

Included were sanitary sewers requested on Line avenue, Smiley street and Wampum avenue. Also the property owners of South Pittsburgh Circle want a paved street and recommended a 32 foot cartway. The cost for material is to be born by the property owner who will pay two-thirds and the city one-third. In both cases it was decided to prepare an ordinance and get an estimate of the cost on the proposed projects.

A communication from Mrs. T. B. Magee was received and acted upon by council. Mrs. Magee recommended a street light in an alley near Third street as an added safety measure for women and children. She urged that a 30 mile speed limit be established on Fountain avenue and double parking be prohibited on Lawrence avenue.

Council resolved to increase their effort to regulate the speed and parking problem. The police department will be instructed to make arrests and make examples of a few. The matter of a street light was referred to a committee.

Upon a visit from the pastor and committee of Free Methodist Church Council decided to reconsider its previous action of permitting the church to move a side-walk nearer to the curb, which would give them some essential room for building purposes. Council will meet at the scene tomorrow afternoon as a committee.

It was decided to suspend the rules of council and pass the ordinance for establishing a grade on Summitt avenue, on second and final reading.

Frank Zobscak,s bid of $143 for, the house on borough property at Second street and Crescent avenue was accepted as the highest of several. A bid of D. K. Cole to dismantle the Central School was rejected and his certified check is to be returned. A request of the school board to purchase some of the toilet facilities from the old Central School to install at the Athletic Field was referred to the Rules and Regulation committee. The recommendation of this committee to approve the request of Joe H. Gettig to construct an amateur radio station on borough property in Ewing Park, was accepted by council. The solicitor was instructed to draw up an agreement.

Recommendation of the Electric Light and Gas committee to remove a hazard near the Fifth street bridge was accepted by council. Another petition for street improvement on Hazel avenue and College street as the other ones were also approved. Council approved the action of the special building committee of appropriating $100 to Architect B. J. McCandless for work so as to expediate WPA projects when they are ready to start.

Board Awards Coal Contract

Discuss Roof Matter At Regular Meeting Of Board Here Last Night

ATHLETES IN FINE SHAPE REPORT SHOWS

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 11.—At its monthly meeting in the Lincoln High school last night the Ellwood City Board of Education awarded its coal contract to Don Bauder and the Old Furance Coal Company. These were the successful bidders out of 14.

The board accepted the invitation of President Earnest Hensley of the local teachers organization to attend a dinner party at the Ellwood City Country club on Oct. 23.

Two pleasing reports featured the meeting. The first was that the board has $10,000 to buy up some of its mature bonds and the second is that the athletic department so early in the season boasts a net balance of over $500 after all accounts have been paid. Chairman of the athletic committee J. F. Fitzgerald made a motion that the committee repay the board $1000 that it had borrowed for equipment and also pay up a deficit of $300 for last year. This was approved. This is the result out of three home games. With four more to go there should be an appreciable profit at the end of the season. The team is also receiving funds for three games away. There have been record turnouts for the games this year.

The grounds committee reported that additional shrubs and plants have been placed on the school grounds. This committee is headed by J. A. Evans.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in discussing the roof matter. Reprsentatives of two companies were present to explain the cause and give demonstrations. Dr. H. E. Helling, chairman of the building committee reported that he had conferred with the WPA director in Harrisburg while attending the Kiwanis convention. Ellwood To Meet Freedom Hi Here

Patched Up Team To Play At Lincoln Field On Saturday Afternoon

GAME TO BEGIN AT 3:15 O'CLOCK

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 11.—A patched up Ellwood City high school grid eleven will meet Freedom high here at Lincoln field on Saturday afternoon. In comparison with the last three games for the locals it is the first soft spot they have had.

This game is a providence to the Tubers. Coming at a time when the team is badly crippled and in need of rest, it will be a God-send. The locals are not under-rating their opponents and have had daily workouts in preparation for the game. A defense has been prepared against the Freedom attack.

Coach Schill plans to use his regulars as little as possible. In all probability the second team will start the game and if they show ability to hold more than their own the regulars will not be used at all. Coach Schill has little backfield reserve at this time. Bill Young has a bruised shoulder and thigh. "Russia" Funari and Chat Bognosky are bothered with boils, George Robuck is in the hospital with a broken leg and Bill Hines has a twisted ankle. This thus leaves him Dave Luxenberg, Tony Scopelite, "Goosty" Metz and Biego fit for action. Captain Kraynak, center, is also nursing an injured shoulder. His shoes will be capably filled by Abe Pratt. The ends, Flannagan and Hughes, have bruised legs that have given them some trouble.

All this week Coach Schill has been brushing up on his punt and pass defense and all indications show that there will be a much better improvement in this than last week. It is believed that the locals will resort to the air in this game more than ever before, as a trial.

Officials announced that the game will start again at 3:15 p. m. so as to give the mill men an opportunity to attend.
